Auto theft is the most frequently committed crime in Cambridge. Here are some suggestions for preventing the theft of your auto:

Lock your car and remove ignition key when parking to prevent auto thefts. Stolen cars are used in most major crimes. Prevent theft of packages by locking them in the trunk. When putting the car away, lock the car, remove keys, and then lock garage.

Lock your doors, even while the car is in motion. Not only is it safer, but it prevents robbers from jumping in your vehicle when stopped in traffic. Motorists should frequently check on their spare tire, license plates, and other accessories and to see to it that they are securely fastened. Memorize your license plate number to expedite recovery if stolen.

A TOUCH OF BLARNEY: George Hughes puts the finishing touches on "The Blarney Stone Pub", in Somerville.

'Blarney Stone', an Irish pub, opens soon

George Hughes, of Somerville, is putting the finishing touches on "The Blarney Stone Pub," located on Coolidge ave., Somerville.

Hughes is well known internationally as a designer and decorator. He has recently completed designing three "German beer gardens" at the transportation exhibition at the Dalles International Airport, Washington, D.C. under the direction of former Secretary John A. Volpe. He also recently finished designing the main ballroom of the Roosevelt Hotel in New York for the Sales Executive Club which honored Dr. Wernher Von Braun of NASA.

The openning of the Pub will be on St. Patrick Day, March 17. The Blarney Stone Pub has been designed after a typical Irish pub in Ireland, the host for the pub will be Jerry Fleming. Opening as feature entertainment for the evening will be the New York's own "Shamrocks". Food, entertainment and drink will be the order of the day.

Free clover plants will be given to all ladies in attendance, and green carnations for the men. A contest will be held for lots of land to be drawn in the lucky drawing for ten weeks, a chance to own a wee bit of Ireland with your own deed. Dart Tournaments are scheduled for the future and, says Hughes, it promises to be a place where old friendships are met and new ones started.

CCA annual meeting

The annual meeting of the Cambridge Civic Association will be on Thursday, March 22. The highlight of the evening will be an address by Mr. Alflorence Cheatham, Superintendant of Schools in Cambridge. We are sure that his talk will be of concern not only to public school parents, but to all citizens interested in the educational environment of Cambridge. Thus we are opening the meeting up to the general public and encouraging our members to invite friends.

The meeting will be held at the Stephen James House, Chez Marie Suite, 15 Davenport st., behind Porter Square Shopping Center. The evening will begin promptly at 7:45 with the business meeting. The regular business of the Association will include the President's Report, The Treasurer's Report, the announcement of the election of Officers, Directors, and members of the Advisory Council, and a brief talk by the incoming President. We expect all business to be concluded early enough to permit socializing and have made arrangements for refreshments to be available for all who wish to remain after the meeting.

Public school lunch menus

The following menu is the luncheon for all Cambridge Public Schools, March 19 through March 23:

Monday: Fruit Juice, Barbecued Beef on Roll, Potato Salad, Chocolate Pudding and Milk.

Tuesday: Oven Baked Sausage Links, Whipped Potatoes with Brown Gravy, Buttered Whole Kernel Corn, Bread with Butter, Plain Cake with Chocolate Frosting and Milk.

Wednesday: Pizza with Tomato Sauce, French Fried Potatoes, Tossed Green Salad, with Italian Dressing, Fruited Jello with Whipped Topping and Milk.

Thursday: Frankfurter on Buttered Roll, Baked Beans, Cole Slaw with Grated Carrots, Peach Crisp, and Milk.

He's only nine but he placed in diving meet

Peter King, 9 years old, took second place in his first diving meet which was held last Sunday March 11, at the Dorchester YMCA. Peter was representing the Cambridge YWCA where he has been practicing with the swimming and diving team since October.

To capture second place in his event, which was for boys 10 and under, Peter performed two required dives and two optionals. The meet was part of a series of developmental diving meets for the Amateur Athletic Union of New England.

PIANIST: The Berklee College of Music has accepted Diane Coggan of 56 Linnaean st. as a piano student in its Division of Private Study.

Price, Linsky are Fellows at Harvard

Don K. Price, dean of the John Fitzgerald School of Government at Harvard University, and Professor Earnest R. May, director of the Institute of Politics in the Kennedy School, announce two additional appointments of Fellows of the Institute for the spring term.

The newly appointed Fellows are: Jeffrey Langley Bell, journalist and lobbyist for the American Conservative Union. Born December 13, 1943, in Washington D.C., Bell received the A.B. degree in 1965 from Columbia College. From 1966 to 1968, he served in the Army in Vietnam from 1967 to 1968, he was attached to the American Artillery Division with the 9th South Vietnamese Infantry Division in the Mekong Delta, where he worked in Intelligence and Public Information. He served on President Nixon's personal staff in 1968.

Since 1969 he has been with the American Conservative Union, as lobbyist and editor of its monthly newsletter, "Battleline." He is a contributor also to the "National Review," "New Guard," "Alternative," "Human Events," and the "Nation."

Martin A. Linsky, former state representative from the 13th Norfolk District (Brookline) and assistant minority leader. Linsky began his government service as Legislative and Research Assistant to then Lieutenant Governor Elliot Richardson in 1965, and in 1967 became Assistant Attorney General. In a special election in October, 1967, he was elected state representative. His legislative concerns have been urban affairs, housing, welfare, and health care. Active in Brookline community affairs, he was chosen one of "Ten Outstanding Men of the Year" in 1963 by the Boston Junior Chamber of Commerce. In 1969 he received the Bryant and Stratton School Award for Distinguished Public Service. Born in Boston, August 28, 1940, he holds the A.B. (1961) degree from Williams College and the J.D. (1964) degree from the Harvard Law School. Married to the former Helen Strieder and the father of Alison, 5, and Samuel 3, he lives at 88 Clyde st., Brookline.

Fellows coming to the Institute for spring term whose appointments were announced earlier include James B. King, special assistant to Senator Edward M. Kennedy; Paul Simon, former Lieutenant Governor of Illinois; and Fred M. Wertheimer, chief lobbyist for Common Cause. Fellows who will continue through the spring term include Gloria Emerson, reporter for the "New York Times;" Frank Licht, former Governor of Rhode Island; and Charles H. Rogovin, former President of the Police Foundation, Washington, D.C.

At the Institute of Politics, Fellows and Associates are free to pursue their own studies or inquiries and to participate generally in the intellectual life of the community. Many of them conduct non-credit student study groups. This academic year, 1972-73, is the seventh year since the founding of the Institute, a memorial to the late President designed to increase the understanding between the scholarly community and the political world. A Program for Students and a Program of Faculty Studies exist in addition to the Institute's Program for Fellows. Fellowships are awarded on the initiative of the Institute and by its invitation, subject to the approval of the President and Fellows of Harvard College.
