Re: Eligibility of Students in Dormitories for Resident Parking Permits—City Council Order #12 , dated April 8, 2002

Dear Mr. Healy:

I am writing in response to City Council Order # 12, dated April 8, 2002 which asks for a report on the eligibility of students living in dormitories for resident parking stickers. As you will recall, on April 5, 2002 I provided an opinion, through you, to the Director of Traffic, Parking and Transportation on this question. Since that opinion is responsive to the City Council order, I am attaching a copy for submission to the City Council.

Please let me know if I can be of further assistance in this matter.

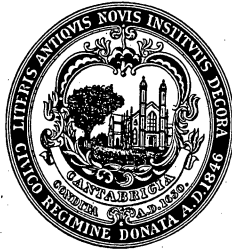

Very truly yours,

Re: Whether Harvard students residing in dormitories are eligible for resident parking permits

Dear Mr. Healy:

As you know, the Director of Traffic, Parking and Transportation, Susan Clippinger, has requested legal advice regarding the question of whether or not she has authority to deny resident parking permits to Harvard students residing in Harvard dormitories.

Under the present law a resident of Cambridge whose motor vehicle is registered in Massachusetts and principally garaged in Cambridge, is entitled to receive a resident parking sticker. The sticker allows a resident's motor vehicle to be parked in any posted residential area of the City. See St. 1961, c. 455, § 3(a), as amended by St. 1962, c. 786, § 7, St. 1972, c. 340, St. 1977, c. 239 and St. 1981, Chapters 166, 424 and 585.

The constitutionality of the Cambridge resident parking sticker program was upheld against a challenge by non-residents in Commonwealth v. Petralia, 372 Mass. 452 (1977).

In summary, a Harvard student (or a student at some other college or university) is entitled to receive a resident parking sticker if he or she is a Cambridge resident and his or her automobile is registered in Massachusetts and principally garaged in Cambridge. A full-time student would certainly be entitled to establish his or her domicile or residence in Cambridge while living in a college or university dormitory. Hershkoff v. Board of Registrars of Voters of Worcester, 366 Mass. 570 (1974). Many students living in dormitories have established their residency in Cambridge and are registered to vote here in local, state, and federal elections. Pursuant to the relevant statutes cited above, the student would also be required to demonstrate that their automobile is registered in Massachusetts and principally garaged in Cambridge. Applications for automobile insurance require identification of the locale within which the automobile is principally garaged, which affects, among other things, the cost of insurance for the vehicle.

Upon a demonstration of compliance with these statutory criteria, a student living in a dormitory is entitled to a resident parking permit in the same manner as any other resident of the city, and in my opinion, the Director of Traffic, Parking, and Transportation could not deny the permit.

Very truly yours,

Re: Parking in Riverside

Interest has been expressed in having more information about parking in the Riverside neighborhood. The following information helps quantify the issue. The information comes from a variety of sources – 1990 and 2000 census information, 2002 information from the City's resident permit parking program, information from Harvard, and data collected by the neighbors.

The City's resident permit parking program issues a resident permit to any vehicle registered in Mass and principally garaged in the city of Cambridge whose registered owner is also a resident of the city. The program cannot deny permits to residents who meet these criteria. However, the program does not issue visitor passes to residents who reside in dorms unless they are the House Master or a resident tutor.

A summary of available information is included. The legal department memo answering the question of whether residents of Harvard dorms are eligible for a resident permit is attached.

Highlights:

- Only 37 of the 3,323 students in the River House dorms have Cambridge resident permits.
- Not every car owned by a resident has a resident permit. For whatever reasons some residents do not get a permit for their car.
- 89% of households in Riverside in 1990 had no car or only one car.
- Neighbors identified 3,000 on and off street residential parking spaces. The City has issued 2,009 resident permits in District 7.
