

May 30, 2000

Dear Sir:

The meadow geese are as important as these pandas are.

All over, you see what happens when the animal's habitat & hunting areas are destroyed for man's whims! Why are previously elusive wild animals showing upon your doorstep - wolves, raccoons, bears, etc?

Because people like you give them NO thought ~~over~~ Then wonder why they are in their yard! These beautiful trees & meadows are being ruined more & more, with no thought to the homes & environments they are destroying. When we had many trees, they helped to keep the environment & carbon monoxide under control. Now it all is scarce.

How could you allow the destruction of a natural habitat? The Geese were in the middle of hatching their eggs & you destroy their homes. People like you make me sick. All you want is power - never compassion!

Sincerely, Jeanne M. DeLeon

over →

Please save the Charles River White
Grease. Please restore their nesting area.

Jeanne M. Damon
25 Randall St.
Taunton, Ma 02780

World Wildlife Fund

1250 Twenty-Fourth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20037
www.worldwildlife.org

Since its founding in 1961, World Wildlife Fund has effectively safeguarded hundreds of species and millions of acres of wildlife habitat -- an area more than twice the size of California. From equipping antipoaching teams to protecting national parks while helping to meet the needs of local people, no other international conservation organization has earned its reputation as WWF has -- from the ground up.

The person sending this card contributed to WWF's efforts to protect the world's endangered wildlife.

For more information about World Wildlife Fund, please call us at 1-800-CALL-WWF or contact our website at worldwildlife.org.

Consent Communication #18

1525

A communication was received from Jeanne M. Damon, relative to the Charles River white geese nesting area.

S-152

In City Council June 5, 2000

PLACED ON FILE