IN CITY COUNCIL

April 22, 1985

MAYOR RUSSELL

WHEREAS: The history of America is the history of a nation at work - a nation of farmers, manufacturers, and merchants joining together to build a better society. The dedication and commitment of these early citizens provided the foundation for a growing and prosperous America - an America built on individual initiative, a competitive spirit, and an intense pride in the achievements of a new nation; and

WHEREAS: Today, this enterprising determination to work and to prosper is embodied in more than 14 million small businesses, which provide the technology to keep the economy growing, the manufacturing and marketing skills to keep the nation competitive, and the innovation to guide us into a better future. It is this enterprising genius that has helped small business create most of our new jobs and provide economic opportunities unsurpassed by any nation in the world; and

WHEREAS: Our sustained economic expansion is encouraging young Americans to form their own businesses. These aspiring entrepreneurs have always been on the leading edge of invention and progress in our society, and their confidence in the future has led to the creation not only of new jobs but of whole new industries. We all benefit from the contributions of small businesses and those who create them; now therefore be it

RESOLVED: That this City Council do hereby proclaim the week of May 5 through May 11, 1985 as

"SMALL BUSINESS WEEK"

in Cambridge and urge all citizens to join together in saluting our small business men and women by observing that week with appropriate activities.

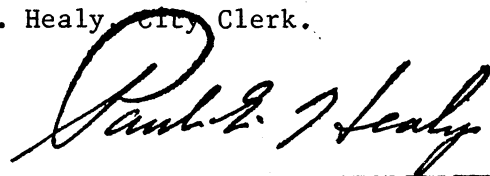

In City Council April 22, 1985.
