Dear Cambridge City Council:

I am writing to you as a small business owner of Huron Village and a resident of the city of Cambridge. The Huron Avenue & Chilton Street intersection is extremely dangerous for pedestrians. The small street sign directing traffic to give pedestrians the right of way is more often ignored than obeyed. This makes for a perilous journey just to get from one side of the street to the next.

Huron Avenue is a very busy street. As a thoroughfare between Fresh Pond Parkway and Concord Avenue, the traffic is always flowing. As a retail village, there are many cars stopping to park, drop off passengers and shop. As a residential neighborhood, there are many neighbors out walking to schools, to the bus stop or taking a stroll. All of these pedestrians deserve to feel safe walking across Huron Avenue.

Our business in particular caters to families with young children. It is of the utmost importance to us that the children coming to and from our restaurant are protected by traffic laws that allow them safe access to our business.

We enthusiastically support the addition of a traffic light for this intersection. It is in the best interests of all of us who live and work in this area.

Sincerely,

Sarah Wheaton
