CAMBRIDGE, MASS.

12/12/81

Sirs:

The house on the corner of Longdon and Mass. Ave is an irrefutable landmark of turn-of-the-century Cambridge. It, and the house across the street, are the only traces of the elegant mansions once lining Mass. Ave and, even today, provide a grace for what is otherwise a truly unremarkable street. Moreover, the house beautifully guards the opening of one of Cambridge's "pocket" neighborhoods, the Longdon, Rutland, Shepard, Conway area.
Please place this building as a piece of protected architecture and help preserve one of the truly glorious remnants of this City's past.

Sincerely

Gordon T Moore
