WHEREAS: It is with a great deal of sadness that the Cambridge City Council learned of the untimely death of Richard Lee, Jr.; and

WHEREAS: Richard was a son of Cambridge who embodied the several characteristics attributed to Cambridge people, he was smart, well informed, open to meeting new people and thinking new ideas. He was charming and a dreamer. He could be very diplomatic in sensitive situations and very resolute when it was important to put his foot down. He could be very funny and witty. He was very honest about himself and his struggles. He was committed to keep trying until he could measure some better progress; and

WHEREAS: Richard Lee, Jr. was a good man with a sweet disposition complete with humor and honesty. We will miss his greeting in the highways and byways of the City. It is important that we remember him as a young man who did seek a brighter future; now therefore be it

RESOLVED: Cambridge, particularly Central Square, won't be the same without him. We will remember him and the time he spent here with us. To his family and friends, we share your loss and your sorrow. Like you, we know that this day came too soon. We hope that he will now rest in peace and take comfort that he is now done with the troubles of the world, and has gone on to live with God. Rest in Peace Dear Richard; and be it further

RESOLVED: That the City Clerk be and hereby is requested to forward a suitably engrossed copy of this resolution to the Lee Family on behalf of the entire City Council.

In City Council June 10, 2002.

Adopted by the affirmative vote of eight members.
