WHEREAS: The City of Cambridge created the Cambridge Peace Commission to facilitate the commitment of its citizens to work for peace and social justice at home and abroad; and

WHEREAS: The citizens of Cambridge, Commonwealth of Massachusetts, are linked in a sister city relationship with Yerevan, Armenia, and are concerned about the well-being of the citizens of Yerevan and of their fellow Armenians in Nagorno-Karabakh; and

WHEREAS: The Armenian Children's Milk Fund is sponsoring an important symposium on contemporary issues in Armenia at the ARCO Forum at Harvard's Kennedy School of Government on Monday, February 7, 1994; and

WHEREAS: The Baroness Caroline A. Cox, Deputy Speaker of Great Britain's House of Lords, will visit Cambridge and Harvard as a distinguished panelist in this symposium; and

WHEREAS: Baroness Cox is visiting the United States to help raise funds for the Armenian Children's Milk Fund; and

WHEREAS: Baroness Cox led the international delegation of the Andrei Sakharov Foundation to document human rights abuses in the conflict surrounding Nagorno-Karabakh and brought the suffering of the people of Nagorno-Karabakh to the world's attention, while bringing them medical supplies, equipment, and food; and

WHEREAS: Baroness Cox has provided humanitarian aid to the people of Poland in the 1980's when they were experiencing a dire shortage of drugs and medical supplies; and

WHEREAS: Baroness Cox was created a life peeress in 1982 for her accomplishment on behalf of the National Council for Educational Standards, advocating the improvement of educational standards to make schools more responsive to parents; and

WHEREAS: The Cambridge City Council is honored by the visit of Baroness Cox to the office of Mayor Kenneth E. Reeves and by her visit to the meeting of the Cambridge City Council on February 7, 1994; and

RESOLVED: That the Cambridge City Council honor Baroness Cox for her exemplary and courageous acts as a champion of human rights and for her tireless work alleviating human suffering, especially of those who cannot speak for themselves, the children of the world.
