WHEREAS: The Grand Debutante Cotillion and Beautillion Militaire Rites of Passage Program this year celebrates the coming of age of Kisha Goode, Christopher Grant, Chiara Davis-Fuller, Andrae Wilson and Lisa Lewis-Guy; and

WHEREAS: The Grand Debutante Cotillion and Beautillion Militaire Rites of passage program is the outgrowth of an initiative which took seed in the fall of 1991. Through the efforts of Sister JoAnn Anderson and a most distinguished Steering Committee sealed with the approval and input of Pastor Attles, the program went forth in 1992; and

WHEREAS: Perhaps on the surface this event reflects some of the traditional activities associated with the meaning of a Cotillion given for Debutantes...a dance...a coming out. The Beautillion, on the other hand, shares the same meaning as the Cotillion but it is for young men. The program adds to this traditional definition workshops focusing not only on social graces but other substantive workshops and activities. These added components will help to mold and shape our youth's future. The program creatively intertwines the traditional meaning with present day essentials in support of our young ladies and young men, in their quest for excellence; and

WHEREAS: Prior to the Black Tie Ball, the program features a series of seven workshops, a community service project, and a three-day excursion to New York City. The goal is simple! The design of the program is meant to enhance our young people socially, culturally, educationally and spiritually. The program is climaxed with a rites of passage ceremony. After considerable practice of the "Waltz" and "Promenade" with their escorts and guests, they are formally introduced into society; and

WHEREAS: For the generation to come, the faces that we will never see, their time invested will have a resounding impact upon our society; now therefore be it

RESOLVED: That the City Council go on record extending its congratulations and best wishes to Kisha Goode, Christopher Grant, Chiara Davis-Fuller, Andrae Wilson and Lisa Lewis-Guy.
