Segat named to

School Committee member Susana Segat has been appointed by Senate President Tom Birmingham to the state Commission on the Status of Women.

"I am honored to be appointed by the Senate president and I look forward to being a conduit between the commission and the women of this state, this region and this city," said Segat.

Birmingham, who was a sponsor of the legislation establishing the commission, looks forward to Segat's participation.

"In her personal, professional and civic activities, Susana has compiled a truly impressive record as an advocate for women and families," he said in a press release. "I am confident that she will be a great asset to the commission."

Born in Argentina, Segat holds bachelor's and master's degrees from Stanford University. Since 1979, she has worked for the Service
