Dear Pallas et al,

As parents of a child who has had the wonderful experience of participating in the City Step Program, I hope that the arts council will recognize this exciting program and make efforts to attend the upcoming performances.

City Step is a program in which Harvard undergrads arrange to work on dance and movement with classes of fifth graders in the public schools. As sixth graders who have participated in fifth, the children are invited to join a free, twice weekly afterschool program. The

culminates in a performance. The kids, ours and Harvard's work and rehearse very hard and seriously. The experience would be enough, but the performance itself is amazing.

I commend the fifth grade teachers who choose to have their class participate. I honor the choice of our sixth graders to commit to a year of dance. And I appreciate the efforts of the wonderful Harvard
students who give so much of themselves to our kids.

This year's performance will be held at the Cambridge Rindge and Latin School. Public performance times are Friday, April 11, 7:30 PM;
Saturday, April 12, 2:30PM and 7:30PM. They will perform for their classmates during the school day on Friday as well.

I hope you will make an effort to come and encourage your colleagues to do so as well. This effort is certainly worthy of our attention and appreciation. Call me (547-5513) if you want more information.
Or contact Claudia Sanchez, the Executive Director at 493-2568.

Pass it on.

Yours truly,

Judy Motzkin

Thanks for your response. Is it possible to have the council do and present a proclamation recognizing this activity and acknowledging the interaction of these Harvard students with our public schools.

In any case it would be nice if you would announce it to the council at the upcoming meeting and invite all to go.

Yours, Judy
