You are invited to meet with workers and organizers active in Massachusetts Jobs With Justice and Service Employees International Union Local 285. Together we are organizing low wage nursing home workers and have begun an economic justice project with Greater Boston's Haitian community. In 1998, when workers are routinely intimidated, harassed, and even fired for trying to organize for a voice on the job, we need to fight to regain the Right to Organize. ML

About Jobs With Justice
Massachusetts Jobs With Justice is a coalition of nearly 70 community and labor organizations. The coalition was founded in 1991 to defend working people's standard of living, fight for job security, protect our right to organize, and support contract campaigns and strikes. Jobs With Justice seeks to build bridges between the labor movement and community organizations, linking the struggles of both.
