

Things that must be understood in order for the future to evolve with stability.

We will be searching for our ideas of what the ultimate technologies are. When people become involved in different kinds of developments their lives become economically centered on their work. As we experiment with different technologies, some will fail and other will stay or evolve. We must give assistance both financially and career readjustment-wise to insure that those who have been involved in technological developments which have failed, have the means to make a transition.

We must understand that technological development in terms of the things we really need does not require that we endanger our lives. There is technological development that is safe and development that is impatient, disjointed and places at risk vital life support systems. This latter form of technology is engaged in by renegade scientists, who have wild selfish dreams of fantasies, who could care less about placing everyone else at risk. The potential for this kind of self renegade exists in all major fields of concern. Security, government, education, technology, industry.

Detailed intelligence paves the way for safe evolution and continuation.

The subtle evolutionary awareness is there for secure technological advancement. The answers come with patience.

There are two creatures who have been responsible for the dissemination of humanity's spirit and evolutionary health.

"The money worshipper" and "the organizational betrayer".

The money worshipper has no connection with the unifying spirit of Life. It is a creature of pure statistical ego. The only way it can perceive societal order is by the power of money. It has no comprehension of intelligent societal cooperation. It will do anything to acquire more money than others in order to sustain control. It will sell national soil for money. Lie, steal, kill, torment, create wars for money, destroy just government for money, deny's other their basic rights and well being for money and on and on. Therefore there must be rules for the acquisition and uses of money in order that the money worshipper beast may not be allowed to acquire foothold.

Which leads to a constitutional question. Shall it be permissible to sell national soil to foreign interests ?. Is our land worth nothing more than a financial figure ?

The organizational betrayer is a kind of rat which infests the full range of society's organizations.

It preys on people who are responsible in carrying out their work. It preys on the sympathies of the good hearted to make them do more than they should so that the betrayer can do less. It steals ideas to gain power and advancement. Behind the scenes it destroys the lives of good people who refuse to go along with its power domination tactics. It works for corrupt or destructive organizations under the excuse that it knows nothing and is "only doing it's job".

It engages in behind the scenes payoff corruption. For its own gain it betrays the organization in subtle unobvious ways, always having an escape route of "not knowing" or "good cause" should it be detected.

It preys on the unaware, either for fun or advantage.

Its idea of fun is making others look bad.

Instead of developing its own constructive abilities it becomes jealous of others who do well, and works to undermine them.

It achieves distinction not by evolving its own individual uniqueness but by being oppositional. It works at its ability to perpetuate conflict.

It takes money for a product or service then fails to deliver what it should then makes it difficult to get the money back.

Be alert to this kind of creature and keep it out by only accepting a standard of individual talent and or dependability.

Preventing confusion in the perfecting and writing of the Everlasting Constitution. Given that 263,000,000 million people or a number of such will be involved the potential for idea and agreement confusion is ever present. Therefore a simple meeting guideline should be in place to keep things flowing.

Meeting should consist of people who work together peacefully. People who seem to be disruptive should be asked to leave. People who have been asked to leave should either start a group of similar like minded members or find another group that they're in harmony with.

This way well functioning groups will eventually be formed.

4A

To stay on track the evolution of The Constitution must have simple reference guidelines for all ideas to relate to such as

1. Mutual respect for individual style.
2. Establishment of basic principles to insure National Unity.
3. Establishment of principles whereby no action of the country causes jeopardy to planetary security in terms of the principles we stand for or the security of the planet's vital resources.

Examples of legislation for the above three

1. MUTUAL RESPECT FOR INDIVIDUAL STYLE

- (a) Given that no assault, theft or other similar criminal laws are violated and that children are well cared for and given access to unlimited education, there shall be no laws which dictate as to the structure of a marriage. This definitely relates to personal style and the inalienable right to happiness
- (b) The public passage ways are common ground and no individual style may engage in oppressive action to deny common rights relative to peacefulness, safe use and passage.

2 ESTABLISHMENT OF BASIC PRINCIPLES TO INSURE NATIONAL UNITY

- (a) school must not be overcrowded
- (b) all law officers, public officials and judges must swear to not violate and uphold and defend the constitution, regardless of any order given them .

- (c) The Constitution may never be suspended. (This prevents a fraudulent overthrow of the nation. The only reason such a need word occur is because of a failure in organization. Principle which would prevent such an occurrence must be incorporated within The Constitution

3. ESTABLISHMENT OF PRINCIPLES WHEREBY NO ACTION OF THE COUNTRY CAUSES JEOPARDY TO NATIONAL SECURITY IN TERMS OF THE PRINCIPLES WE STAND FOR OR THE SECURITY OF THE PLANET'S VITAL RESOURCES

- (a) no national soil may be sold to foreign entities
- (b) no national business may engage in business on foreign land that utilizes any degree of slave labor, torturous or educational denying child labor
- (c) no national business may operate on foreign soil such that pollution is generated

2nd Amendment Right to Bear Arms

1. It's purpose is to enable citizens to defend themselves against the occurrence in tyranny by the government.

Question how do you prevent tyranny in gov't from occurring ?

2. Those who are against the 2nd amendment don't want to live in an atmosphere of a violent environment.

Let's say no one has the right to bear arms, but an entity with arms begins attacking the unarmed.

Question what is to be done ?

Let's say only the government societal protection forces may bear arms.

Question. What if they turn against the people in tyranny ? How do the people defend themselves ?

Question Should there be places available where no arms are allowed ?

Should there be places available where arms are allowed ?

Some people like to shoot weapons for fun, harming no one.

Some people like hunting; others don't like the killing of animals.

Some life styles are primitive and involve the need to kill animals for food. This need for meat can be solved by cloning.

The need of fulfilling a hunting instinct indicates a mentality not evolved to the point where joy may be experienced without killing. There are highly technologically advanced galactic races which go about waging war. This means that violence is a reality and trying to avoid facing what to do about it is as successful as an ostrich sticking its head in the sand.

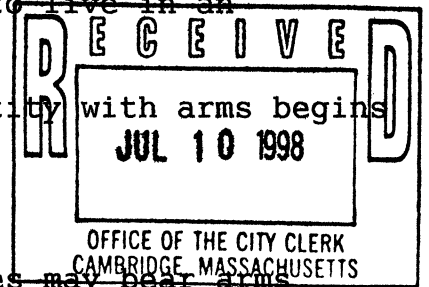

Solutions There are systems that can enable people to defend themselves, who don't want weapons,

Separate Areas can be designated for each interest.

This is given as an example of how to analyze issues with opposing views.

Abortion or whether a child is alive in the womb. The Bible states life was breathed into man. Therefore from a religious point of view it cannot be held that life begins in the womb. The child has no living spirit until it breathes air. Before the fetus is actually living by the mothers energies.

Question what are the techniques that securly prevent child birth so a fetus doesn't occur ?
