WHEREAS: The City of Cambridge, recognizing that its youth represent its future, is proud of putting the welfare and education of its students above all else; and

WHEREAS: The City of Cambridge is likewise proud of the many Cambridge students who attend college and become productive members of society, for they are the products of the City's investments in young people; and

WHEREAS: The City of Cambridge is particularly proud of PHYLLIS J. ITOKA, a 1995 Cambridge Rindge and Latin School graduate, who is one of only twenty students in the state of Massachusetts to be awarded a scholarship through the Massachusetts Biotechnology Council's annual Biotechnology Scholars Program; and

WHEREAS: This scholarship is awarded to students who have shown an exceptional commitment to life science, and who plan to continue their science education during college; now therefore be it

RESOLVED: That this City Council does hereby congratulate PHYLLIS J. ITOKA on receiving this award, and wishes her success as she moves on through college.
