COUNCILLOR SULLIVAN

WHEREAS: It is appropriate that memorialization of people by naming streets, public buildings and fora or other areas in their honor be given to those who have contributed mightily to the life of the City of Cambridge; and

WHEREAS: The history of the gentleman after whom Inman Street was named shows that he contributed little or nothing to warrant such an honor; and

WHEREAS: On the other hand, a gentleman whose Cantabridgian history and contribution to Cambridge have never been given adequate appreciation nor memorialized with a public expression of honor and whose life was so enmeshed in the life of Cambridge that one cannot think of Cambridge without him nor him without Cambridge was the late City Councillor and Mayor Edward Crane -- a giant in physical stature, a giant in public services to the people of Cambridge; now therefore be it

ORDERED: That Inman Street be renamed MAYOR EDWARD CRANE BOULEVARD and that the City Manager initiate all the procedures necessary to assure this change and arrange for an unveiling dedication ceremony with refreshments for a date and time as soon as possible which is convenient to the members of the Crane family. Further, that the City Manager assure that the location of the dedicatory sign be displayed at the corner of the present Inman Street and Massachusetts Avenue, adjacent to City Hall.
