WHEREAS: On April 4, 1995, a "Birthday Party and (Gentle) Roast will be held at the Salvation Army for CAPTAIN S. M. CARROLL; and

WHEREAS: CAPTAIN S. M. CARROLL has been known by many titles by his friends and colleagues alike - Captain, Major, Lieutenant, Priest, Sergeant, and General, to name but a few; and

WHEREAS: It has been reported that once, in a middle of a rainstorm on one miserable October afternoon, CAPTAIN S. M. CARROLL was spotted muddling through Central Square in full circus clown regalia, on his way to a Rotary Club Halloween Party to entertain young people - one of the few times the man has been seen in public without a smile; and

WHEREAS: CAPTAIN S. M. CARROLL is the model of dedication and community spirit, a team player who gives of himself to help those in need; and

WHEREAS: CAPTAIN S. M. CARROLL would like nothing better than to spend the rest of his working days at the Salvation Army in the City of Cambridge, until such time as he should retire from wearing clown suits and other activities; and

WHEREAS: Little mention has been made of how old CAPTAIN S. M. CARROLL is, or how long he has worked at the Salvation Army, but it is suspected that both numbers, if spoken out loud or written on paper, would put the rest of us to shame; and

WHEREAS: Truly, it is hoped that on this, the occasion of his Birthday Party and Roast, CAPTAIN S. M. CARROLL realizes how very loved, respected, and appreciated he is - by his colleagues, friends, young people, those in need, and not least of all by his devoted wife, who dutifully refers to herself and signs all correspondence as "Mrs. Captain S. M. Carroll" - with "Betzann" in parentheses; and

WHEREAS: At least by his wife, and quite possibly a few more, CAPTAIN S. M. CARROLL is believed to be the "most handsome, intelligent, and generous Captain in the whole Salvation Army; now therefore be it

RESOLVED: That this Cambridge City Council does hereby wish CAPTAIN S. M. CARROLL a most happy birthday, and thanks him for all the wonderful work he has done for the people of our City, where he will always have a home.
