Cambridge, Oct. 27. 1896.

To the Honorable, the City Council, of the City of Cambridge.

The undersigned respectfully pray that Your honorable body will re-open the case of the taking a portion of his land for the widening of Lane as that in the year 1890, and that the sum then awarded to him which he deems insufficient may be suitably increased. He was then awarded the sum of £225.- which in his judgment is wholly inadequate.

The Committee on C L A I M S, to which was referred the petition of John J. Bright, for an additional award of damages for land taken in the year 1890 to widen Inman street on the west side between Harvard street and Broadway,

Reports

The widening referred to was done by an order approved December 24, 1890, and the sum of $142.00 was originally awarded to Mr. Bright. Subsequently in the year 1891, the award was increased to $225.00 in full for all damages. This sum included payment for 184.51 square feet of land and the damages to the house, and all other damages, and is believed to be sufficient compensation.
