2. The purposes for which this corporation is formed are as follows:

To establish, undertake, engage in, carry out, record and/or publicize research in urban development, social problems and other areas relevant to the betterment of mankind and his psychological, social or physical environment; to educate the public by making available to the public and generally disseminating the information obtained from the aforementioned research; and to coordinate its efforts with public or private organizations with similar purposes.

those granted by Chapter 180 of the Massachusetts General Laws in any jurisdiction within or without the United States.

To be a partner in any business enterprise which this corporation would have the power to conduct by itself.

To do any and all things necessary, incidental or useful to accomplish any of the charitable or educational purposes of this corporation as set forth in Article 2 hereof, and provided always that this corporation is organized and operated exclusively for charitable and educational purposes, that although reimbursement for expenses actually incurred and reasonable compensation may be paid to its directors, officers, employees, agents and representatives for services actually rendered, no part of the net earnings of this corporation, if any, will inure to the benefit of its members, directors, officers, contributors or other private persons, and no part of the activities of the corporation or any recipients of its funds shall be to disseminate propaganda or otherwise attempt to influence legislation or the outcome of any specific public election, or to carry on, directly or indirectly, any voter registration drive, and that in the event of termination, dissolution, or winding up of the corporation in any manner, its remaining assets, if any, shall be distributed to an organization, as determined by the directors with similar purposes which qualifies as an exempt organization under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 or any corresponding provision of any future United States Internal Revenue Law.

Any other provisions of these Articles of Organization notwithstanding:

(1) The corporation shall distribute its income for each taxable year at such time and in such manner as not to become subject to the tax on undistributed income imposed by section 4942 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, or corresponding provisions of any subsequent Federal tax laws.

(2) The corporation shall not engage in any act of self-dealing as defined in section 4941(d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, or corresponding provisions of any subsequent Federal tax laws.

(3) The corporation shall not retain any excess business holdings as defined in section 4943(c) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, or corresponding provisions of any subsequent Federal tax laws.

4. Other lawful provisions, if any, for the conduct and regulation of the business and affairs of the corporation, for its voluntary dissolution, or for limiting, defining, or regulating the powers of the corporation, or of its directors or members, or of any class of members, are as follows:

In addition to, and without limitation of, the powers expressly granted by Chapter 180 of the Massachusetts General Laws, the corporation shall have the power:

To purchase, receive, take by grant, gift, devise, bequest or otherwise, lease, or otherwise acquire, own, hold, improve, property, or any interest therein, wherever situated.

To sell, convey, lease, exchange, transfer or otherwise dispose of, or mortgage, pledge, encumber or create a security interest in, all or any of its property, or any interest therein wherever situated.

To purchase, take, receive, subscribe for, or otherwise acquire, own, hold, vote, sell, lend, lease, exchange, transfer, or otherwise dispose of, mortgage, pledge, use and otherwise deal in and with, bonds and other obligations, shares, or other securities or interests issued by others, whether engaged in similar or different business, governmental, or other activities.

To make contracts, give guarantees and incur liabilities, borrow money at such rates of interest as the corporation may determine, issue its notes, bonds, and other obligations, and secure any of its obligations by mortgage, pledge, or encumbrance of, or security interest in, all or any of its property or any interest therein, wherever situated.

To lend money, invest and reinvest its funds, and take and hold real and personal property as security for the payment of funds so loaned or invested.

To do business, carry on its operations, and have offices and exercise the powers set forth herein and

(4) The corporation shall not make any investments in such manner as to subject it to tax under section 4944 of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, or corresponding provisions of any subsequent Federal tax laws.

(5) The corporation shall not make any taxable expenditures as defined in section 4945(d) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1954, or corresponding provisions of any subsequent Federal tax laws.

It is the intention that this corporation shall be administered and its funds disbursed only in such manner as will comply with all applicable provisions of the Internal Revenue Code as now in effect or hereafter amended, in order that this corporation may qualify as an exempt corporation for federal income tax purposes and as an organization contributions to which shall be deductible under the provisions of the Internal Revenue Code by the donor for charitable and similar purposes. All other provisions of these powers and the purposes of this corporation and any amendments thereto shall be subject to and controlled by the foregoing limitation that the corporation be administered and its funds disbursed only in such a manner as to qualify it as an exempt organization, and nothing in said powers and purposes shall in any manner be construed so as to permit any action or failure to act inconsistent therewith.

The directors may make, amend or repeal the by-laws in whole or in part except with respect to any provision thereof which by law or these Articles of Organization requires action by the Corporate Members.

Secretary of the Commonwealth

CORPORATION DIVISION

STATE HOUSE, BOSTON

March 13, 1972

City Manager -- Cambridge, Massachusetts

Neal Sullivan 287 Harvard Street Cambridge
(and others not of Cambridge)

have filed in this office an application for a certificate of incorporation, as provided for in chapter 180 of the General Laws, Tercentenary Edition, under the name of Institute for Educational Services, Inc.
for the purpose of -see attached purposes-to be located in the city of Boston

In accordance with the provisions of section five of said chapter 180 of the General Laws, Tercentenary Edition, I request that you forward forthwith to this office a statement of the facts called for by said section.

Very truly yours,

Secretary of the Commonwealth

1. The name by which the corporation shall be known is:

Institute for Educational Services, Inc. ✓

2. The purposes for which the corporation is formed are as follows:

The corporation is formed to facilitate the meeting of priority educational, administrative, and management needs of school systems in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, to develop and evaluate a delivery system therefor, and to assist school systems in sharing services and resources between themselves.

(a) The corporation may purchase, receive, take by grant, gift, devise, bequest or otherwise, lease, or otherwise acquire, own, hold, improve, employ, use and otherwise deal in and with, real or personal property, or any interest therein, wherever situated.

(b) The corporation may sell, convey, lease, exchange, transfer or otherwise dispose of, or mortgage, pledge, encumber or create a security interest in, all or any of its property, or any interest therein, wherever situated.

(c) The corporation may purchase, take, receive, subscribe for, or otherwise acquire, own, hold, vote, employ, sell, lend, lease, exchange, transfer, or otherwise dispose of, mortgage, pledge, use and otherwise deal in and with, bonds and other obligations, shares, or other securities or interests issued by others, whether engaged in similar or different business, governmental, or other activities.

(d) The corporation may make contracts, give guarantees and incur liabilities, borrow money at such rates of interest as the corporation may determine, issue its notes, bonds and other obligations, and secure any of its obligations by mortgage, pledge or encumbrance of, or security interest in, all or any of its property or any interest therein, wherever situated.

(e) The corporation may lend money, invest and reinvest its funds, and take and hold real and personal property as security for the payment of funds so loaned or invested.

(f) The corporation may do business, carry on its operations, and have offices and exercise the powers granted by Mass. G.L. c. 180, as now in force or as hereafter amended, in any jurisdiction within or without the United States, although the corporation shall not be operated for the primary purpose of carrying on a trade or business for profit.

(g) The corporation may pay pensions, establish and carry out pension, savings, thrift and other retirement, incentive and benefit plans, trusts and provisions for any or all of its directors, officers and employees and for any or all of the directors, officers, and employees of any corporation, fifty per cent or more of the shares of which outstanding and entitled to vote on the election of directors are owned, directly or indirectly, by it.

(h) The corporation may participate as a subscriber in the exchanging of insurance contracts specified in Mass. G.L. c. 175, § 94B as now in force or as hereafter amended.

(i) The corporation may be an incorporator of other corporations of any type or

(j) The corporation may be a partner in any business enterprise which said corporation would have power to conduct by itself.

(k) The directors may make, amend or repeal the by-laws in whole or in part, except with respect to any provisions thereof which by law or the by-laws require action by the members.

(l) Meetings of the members may be held anywhere in the United States.

(m) The corporation shall, to the extent legally permissible and only to the extent that the status of the corporation as an organization exempt under Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code is not affected thereby, indemnify each of its directors, officers, employees and other agents (including persons who serve at its request as directors, officers, employees or other agents of another organization in which it has an interest) against all liabilities and expenses, including amounts paid in satisfaction of judgments, in compromise or as fines and penalties, and counsel fees, reasonably incurred by him in connection with the defense or disposition of any action, suit or other proceeding, whether civil or criminal, in which he may be involved or with which he may be threatened, while in office or thereafter, by reason of his being or having been such a director, officer, employee or agent, except with respect to any matter as to which he shall have been adjudicated in any proceeding not to have acted in good faith in the reasonable belief that his action was in the best interests of the corporation; provided, however, that as to any payment by the corporation of expenses incurred in defending a civil or criminal action or proceeding in advance of the final disposition of such action or proceeding, the person being indemnified undertake to repay such payment if he shall be adjudicated to be not entitled to indemnification under Mass. G.L. c. 180, § 6 as now in force or hereafter amended and as to any matter disposed of by a compromise payment by such director, officer, employee or agent, pursuant to a consent decree or otherwise, no indemnification either for said payment or for any other expenses shall be provided unless such compromise shall be approved as in the best interests of the corporation, after notice that it involves such indemnification: (a) by a disinterested majority of the directors then in office; or (b) by a majority of the disinterested directors then in office, provided that there has been obtained an opinion in writing of independent legal counsel to the effect that such director, officer, employee or agent, appears to have acted in good faith in the reasonable belief that his action was in the best interests of the corporation or (c) by a majority of the disinterested members entitled to vote for directors, voting as a single class. The right of indemnification hereby provided shall not be exclusive of or affect any other rights to which any director, officer, employee or agent may be entitled. As used in this Section, the terms "director," "officer," "employee" and "agent" include their respective heirs, executors and administrators, and an "interested" director is one against whom in such capacity the proceedings in question or another proceeding on the same or similar grounds is then pending. Nothing contained in this Section shall affect any rights to indemnification to which corporate personnel other than directors may be entitled by contract or otherwise under law. In no event shall the corporation make any payment to a director, officer, employee or other agent if such payment would constitute a taxable expenditure under Section 4945 of the Internal Revenue Code.

(n) No part of the assets of the corporation and no part of any net earnings of the corporation shall be divided among or inure to the benefit of any officer or director of the corporation or any private individual or be appropriated for any purposes other than the purposes of the corporation as herein set forth; no contribution shall be made by the corporation for other than religious, charitable, scientific, literary or educational purposes; and no substantial part of the activities of the corporation shall be or include the carrying on of propaganda or otherwise attempting to influence legislation or participating in or intervening in (including the publishing or distributing of statements) any political campaign on behalf of any candidate for public office. It is intended that the corporation shall be entitled to exemption from federal income tax under Section 501(c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code and shall qualify as a public charity under Section 509(a) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(o) Upon the dissolution of the corporation, the members shall, after paying or making provision for the payment of all of the liabilities of the corporation, dispose of all of the assets of the corporation exclusively for the purposes of the corporation to such organization or organizations exempt from taxation under the provisions of Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code, as the members shall determine.

(p) In the event that the corporation is a private foundation as that term is defined in Section 509 of the Internal Revenue Code, then notwithstanding any other provisions of the articles of organization or the bylaws of the corporation, the following provisions shall apply.

The directors shall distribute the income for each taxable year at such time and in such manner as not to become subject to the tax on undistributed income imposed by section 4942 of the Internal Revenue Code.

Any other provisions of this instrument notwithstanding, the directors shall not engage in any act of self-dealing as defined in section 4941(d) of the Internal Revenue Code; nor retain any excess business holdings as defined in section 4943(c) of the Internal Revenue Code; nor make any investments in such manner as to incur tax liability under section 4944 of the Internal Revenue Code; nor make any taxable expenditures as defined in section 4945(d) of the Internal Revenue Code.

(q) All references herein to the Internal Revenue Code shall be deemed to refer to the Internal Revenue Code of 1954 and shall be deemed to include statutes which succeed said provisions (i.e., corresponding provisions of future Internal Revenue laws).

(r) The corporation may have and exercise all powers necessary or convenient to effect any or all of the purposes for which the corporation is formed; provided that no such power shall be exercised in a manner inconsistent with Mass. G.L. c. 180 or any other chapter of the General Laws of the Commonwealth or Section 501(c)(3) of the Internal Revenue Code.
