IN CITY COUNCIL

March 6, 1995

COUNCILLOR BORN

WHEREAS: Despite the encouragement of this august body, (The Cambridge City Council), the owners and players of major league baseball have been unable to settle their differences and commence training for the upcoming season; and

WHEREAS: These differences involve the reluctance of men who play this game they supposedly love and who are already making many millions of dollars to give up the possibility of making many more millions of dollars which children and ordinary people who love baseball watch in bewilderment and disillusionment; now therefore be it

RESOLVED: That the City Council urge the Commissioner of Baseball to immediately stop negotiations with these greedy people and start recruiting new female baseball players who will assure us that greed and egotism will not be elements in their play.
