

City of Cambridge

5.

IN CITY COUNCIL

February 1, 1993

MAYOR REEVES
VICE MAYOR CYR
COUNCILLOR DUFFAY
COUNCILLOR RUSSELL
COUNCILLOR SULLIVAN
COUNCILLOR WALSH
COUNCILLOR WOLF

WHEREAS: The world of books, fiction or non-fiction, biographical or industrial, can serve as a vehicle of travel to foreign lands providing a glimpse into exploration of the culture, climate and way of life in other areas of the world; and

WHEREAS: Newcomers and ever expanding businesses have greatly impacted the changing scene in Harvard Square, the bookstore capital, necessitating the imminent closing of the 25 year old Reading International Bookstore, owned by Sheldon Cohen, one of Harvard Square's long-term ambassadors and

WHEREAS: Located at the corner of Brattle and Church Streets for one quarter century, Reading International has distinguished itself as one of the first bookstores to carry newspapers and magazines; and

WHEREAS: The closing of Reading International will be a significant loss to many of its patrons and will be sorely missed; now therefore be it

RESOLVED: That this Cambridge City Council does hereby applaud and congratulate Sheldon Cohen for two and one half decades of faithful and devoted service to the public.

In City Council February 1, 1993.

Adopted by the affirmative vote of nine members.

Attest:- D. Margaret Drury, City Clerk.

A true copy;

ATTEST:-

D. Margaret Drury

D. Margaret Drury
City Clerk

City of Cambridge

9.

IN CITY COUNCIL

February 1 1993

MAYOR REEVES

WHEREAS: The world of books, fiction or non-fiction, biographical or industrial, can serve as a vehicle of travel to foreign lands providing a glimpse into exploration of the culture, climate and way of life in other areas of the world; and

WHEREAS: Newcomers and ever expanding businesses have greatly impacted the changing scene in Harvard Square, the bookstore capital, necessitating the imminent closing of the 25 year old Reading International Bookstore, owned by Sheldon Cohen, one of Harvard Square's long-term ambassadors; and

WHEREAS: Located at the corner of Brattle and Church Streets for one quarter century, Reading International has distinguished itself as one of the first bookstores to carry newspapers and magazines; and

WHEREAS: The closing of Reading International will be a significant loss to many of its patrons and will be sorely missed; now therefore be it

RESOLVED: That this Cambridge City Council does hereby applaud and congratulate Sheldon Cohen for two and one half decades of faithful and devoted service to the public.

Mayor Reeves re: The closing of Reading International.

February 1, 1993

Order Adopted