- WHEREAS: Ted Littlefield from Riverside Boat Club is always outside picking up around the Club building, along the riverfront at Magazine Beach, and along Memorial Drive, no matter what the weather; and
- WHEREAS: The sight of Ted with his red wheelbarrow gladdens the hearts of the many people who walk, run, bicycle or drive by Magazine Beach; and
- WHEREAS: He offers loving care by picking up trash and debris, and he is an all around great care taker who doesn't wait for somebody else to attend to problems; and
- WHEREAS: If it weren't for Ted's tidying up the area, the enjoyment of the Magazine Beach would be much diminished for all; and
- WHEREAS: Further, he has a kind word for everyone he meets and is a goodwill ambassador for the Riverside Boat Club; and
- WHEREAS: He sets an example of the model, caring citizen who pitches in for the benefit of all; and
- WHEREAS: Hundreds of people would like to thank him personally for what he does, but are unable to stop to extend their gratitude; now therefore be it

RESOLVED: That on behalf of the people of Cambridge and all those who use Magazine Beach, the City Council extends its thanks to Ted Littlefield for being a most valued and appreciated Magazine Beach denizen and hopes that his example inspires others to be good citizens as well.
