WHEREAS: Walter Joseph Sullivan and Marion Ann Sullivan will be celebrating their Fiftieth Golden Wedding Anniversary on July 27, 1996; and

WHEREAS: Marion Ann Colarusso ("Mariannina"), daughter of Anthony Colarusso of Avellino, Italy and Florence Sateriale of Naples, Italy, was born on April 2, 1922 in Cambridge at 254 Western Avenue. She was the oldest of three girls; and

WHEREAS: Walter Joseph Sullivan, son of Michael A. "Mickey the Dude" Sullivan of Cambridge and Mary Hart of Portland, Maine, was born on March 2, 1923 in Cambridge at 15 Surrey Street. He was one of twelve children, five boys and seven girls; and

WHEREAS: The foundation laid by their parents gave them each a strong sense of family and faith and as Marion put it, "It was a good thing her father wasn't bigoted." Internationality marriages were not common. Who would have imagined that this Italian beauty would marry this handsome Irish lad; and

WHEREAS: Walter and Marion first met in 1939 at the Cambridge High and Latin School; and

WHEREAS: Walter and Marion love to dance. Walter would take Marion to dances at such hot spots as: St. Paul's, St. Mary's, the American Legion, the Elks and of course the Riverside Boat Club. Walter was no fool -- dances at the boat club led to romantic walks on the moonlit Charles River. And when there was no moon, Walter was known, on occasion, to borrow his father's truck, to go "parking" at none other than the Mt. Auburn Cemetery. Of course, this was after his father had convinced his colleagues on the City Council that the practice of "parking" at the cemeteries be prohibited. Walter and Marion were the first two stopped under the new ordinance, but the officer simply sent them on their way; and

- WHEREAS: Marion's sweetheart entered the United States Air Force during World War II ("the one Walter won serving in the Pacific theater -- especially by helping all the nuns he ran into"). Marion would send Walter a letter everyday, however, she wrote them all on one day and dated them consecutively; and
- WHEREAS: After having dated for seven years, Walter and Marion were married on July 27, 1946 at St. Paul's Church in Cambridge, Monsignor Hickey officiated and the reception was at the Hotel Continental with music provided by Freddie Sateriale and his orchestra; and
- WHEREAS: Marion and Walter's first marital residence was with Marion's parents, behind her father's store, "Tony's Italian Meat Market" on Western Avenue -- Marion today still holds the record for sausage tying; and
- WHEREAS: While residing at the store, Walter and Marion were overjoyed by the arrival of their daughter, Marion Ann on September 11, 1947 and their daughter Mary Michelle on April 23, 1949; and
- WHEREAS: The young family quickly began to outgrow their living accommodations, with a third child on the way, the young couple convinced Mrs. McCarthy to rent them an apartment at 32 Putnam Avenue. Good fortune followed them to their new home with the arrival of their third daughter, Maureen Florence on June 6, 1951. Walter and Marion were proud of their three queens; and
- WHEREAS: This budding family decided it was time to move...so they loaded up the truck... and moved next door to 28 Putnam Avenue, where they have resided for the past forty plus years; and
- WHEREAS: While residing at 28 Putnam Avenue, they were dealt a "full house - three queens and two kings" with the arrival of their twin sons -- twin #1 and twin #2 -- no -- Walter Joseph Sullivan, Jr. and Michael Anthony Sullivan on August 26, 1959; and
- WHEREAS: Walter and Marion's lives have truly been enriched over the past twenty-four years with the arrival of their grandchildren; William Carven, Christopher Carven, Patrick Murphy, Richard Santoro, Alyssa Murphy, Elizabeth Santoro, Michelle Murphy, Michael Carven, James Carven and Marissa Sullivan; and
- WHEREAS: Walter and Marion have been loving and supportive parents and grandparents, instilling in their children and grandchildren, not simply in words but in deed, a strong sense of family, faith, character, caring and compassion; and

WHEREAS: Walter and Marion have been partners in all their endeavors from making a home to electoral politics and lately in retirement; and

WHEREAS: For the past fifty-seven years, Walter and Marion have been more in love each day than they were the day before; and

WHEREAS: Walter and Marion have truly been successful through their union and together have made this world better for us all; and

WHEREAS: Walter and Marion have each been given someone beautiful to share their faith, their lives and have been blessed with the gift of each other -- as friends, loves of each other's life and husband and wife; now therefore be it

RESOLVED: That this City Council extend to Walter and Marion Sullivan their wishes for much happiness as they celebrate their Golden Anniversary and for continued good health and each other; and be it further
