IN CITY COUNCIL

October 16, 1989

MAYOR VELLUCCI

- WHEREAS: Cambridge College is a leader in adult education in a city that prides itself on the quality of its academic institutions; and
- WHEREAS: The cultural and ethnic diversity of Cambridge College's student body, faculty, administration, and Board of Trustees is representative of the richness of our city's diverse traditions; and
- WHEREAS: Cambridge College successfully provides an opportunity for working adults to enhance their professional lives; and
- WHEREAS: Cambridge College has been particularly supportive of providing graduate programs in counseling psychology, management, and education for our city's teachers and human services providers; and
- WHEREAS: Cambridge College's student-centered educational model provides an opportunity for working men and women to bring their years of experience to the classroom and advance in their own professional lives; and
- WHEREAS: Cambridge College's innovative Graduate Studies Preparation Program has demonstrated that motivated adults who may not have an undergraduate degree but who have extensive professional competencies can succeed in Graduate School; and
- WHEREAS: Cambridge College has made a significant difference in the lives of its 5,000 alumni and their families; now therefore be it
- RESOLVED: That I, Alfred E. Vellucci, Mayor of the City of Cambridge, am proud to honor Cambridge College, an independent, graduate school which combines access and quality, which acknowledges the value of adult wisdom, and strengthens the vital linkage between education theory and life practice, on the occasion of the opening of its new academic and classroom facility at One Mifflin Place in Harvard Square.

In City Council October 16, 1989.
