VICE MAYOR RUSSELL

WHEREAS: The Massachusetts Association of Conservation Commissions has named as recipient of its Environmental Service Award: The Coalition for Alewife with the Conservation Commissions of Arlington, Belmont, and Cambridge, and MDC Land Use Planner John Krajovic; and

WHEREAS: This award is given in recognition of the success achieved by these diverse groups through their continuous and collaborative efforts to protect wetlands and significant urban wilds where their three communities join; and

WHEREAS: The three Commissions worked together to educate the public on Alewife's wetland and open space values and to advocate for the area's protection; and

WHEREAS: The Coalition for Alewife consisting of numerous environmental and local community organizations, worked closely with the conservation commissions of the three municipalities, the MDC, and the local governments to avert the long-standing threat of an ill-conceived and overbuilt multilayered road and bridge system that would have displaced the current parkway and severely impacted the Alewife Area; now therefore be it

RESOLVED: That the City Council offer congratulations to the Coalition for Alewife and the Conservation Commission of Cambridge and invites their members to be recognized by the public at the March 7 City Council meeting at 7:00 p.m.
