WHEREAS: The anthem one day must be written titled "Faith of Our Mothers." We, today, could sing that anthem because we celebrate today the legacy and impact of one dedicated mother who had great faith; and

WHEREAS: Lillian L. Hurley was a woman who was dedicated to her children and look what her tears, faith and prayers have wrought; and

WHEREAS: Saint Paul A.M.E. Church lost one of its true pillars when she departed this life in December of 1999, it is so very fitting that today the Stewardess Board that she dearly loved will be named the Lillian L. Hurley Stewardess Board # 2 in her honor; and

WHEREAS: The City of Cambridge joins with the Saint Paul A.M.E. Church family on this occasion when a daughter of Barbados and Cambridge is honored for the example of her life; be it

RESOLVED: Therefore, that Sunday, February 4, 2001 shall be Lillian L. Hurley Day in the City of Cambridge and on behalf of the Cambridge City Council best wishes are to be conveyed on this very special occasion. Real Black History is the story of the Church mothers and fathers who believed deeply that there could be a new day. Because of Mrs. Hurley's work, the new day continues to be within the scope of our lifetime.
