- WHEREAS: Since its founding in 1630, there has always existed a special bond between the City of Cambridge and people of Irish origin; a relationship that has resulted in strong cultural ties between our two nations which continue to grow to this day; and
- WHEREAS: To further strengthen this tie between our two nations, City Councilor Sheila Doyle Russell, former Mayor of the City of Cambridge, Massachusetts and John Mouholland, former Mayor of the City of Galway, Ireland, signed a Sister City agreement on March 17, 1997, between our two great municipalities to foster an exchange of ideas and culture between us that has proven educational and enriching to all involved; and
- WHEREAS: Galway and Cambridge are two proud cities which share many similarities including a booming technology-based industrial life, a cultural heritage that draws tourists from around the world, a strong commitment to education and a dedication to providing a clean environment for our citizens, thus providing some of the highest standards of living in the world; and
- WHEREAS: The Cambridge City Council is pleased to send this delegation to meet Mayor Declan McDonnell and all other officials and honored guests here today to reaffirm our unique relationship and exchange ideas and information between our cities as we lead them into the new millennium; now therefore be it
- RESOLVED: That the Cambridge City Council does hereby extend its heartfelt greetings to the people of Galway City, Ireland, thanking them for their generous hospitality and goodwill shown towards our delegation; and be it further

RESOLVED: That the City Council does hereby reaffirm and strongly support Cambridge's Sister City relationship with Galway City, encouraging all Cambridge residents to visit this beautiful Irish city and experience all it has to offer; and be it further

RESOLVED: That the City Clerk of Cambridge be and is hereby requested to prepare a suitably engrossed copy of this resolution to be presented to the City government of Galway City, Ireland on behalf of the entire City Council.
