Dear Friend:

You may already know us, but if you don't, the Child Care Resource Center, Inc. is a non-profit organization dedicated to making quality, affordable child care available to every family that needs it, regardless of their race, ethnicity, religion, or economic status. Each year, generous donations from people like you enable us to have a positive impact on the lives of thousands of children and families.

This year, our 25th Anniversary, we are excited to be able to offer something special to our donors of $250 or more. We have 100 tickets to a limited engagement (6 performances only!) of Twilight: Los Angeles, 1992, the latest one-woman show from Anna Deavere Smith. Ms. Smith is known for her intimate, balanced portrayals of people responding to extraordinary circumstances in their communities. Her Fires in the Mirror, about the explosion between Hassidic Jews and Blacks in Brooklyn's Crown Heights section, sold out during its Boston run; Twilight: Los Angeles, 1992, about the Los Angeles riots, is not to be missed. Our tickets are for November 14th, at 8:00 p.m., at the Colonial Theatre in Boston, and we hope that you will be able to join us for what promises to be a moving and timely event.

Last year CCRC provided child care information, referrals and technical assistance to more than 9,000 Massachusetts families, and training and technical assistance to more than 3,000 caregivers in a variety of languages. Here are just some of the ways we help to build a strong and comprehensive child care community:

- we help families to find quality, affordable care for their children;
- we enable parents to obtain subsidies so they can afford that care;
- we counsel employees on balancing their work and family responsibilities;
- we train people of all cultures to become licensed child care providers;
- we teach providers the skills they need to build strong, successful businesses;
- we support community child care advocacy efforts.

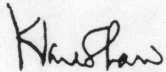

Our sliding fee scale guarantees that no one is turned away because of an inability to pay.

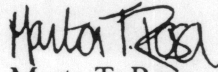

Some of the ways that we'll be meeting needs in 1997 include: enhancing our information and referral services for parents of children with disabilities, increasing our provider training opportunities to improve the quality of care that children receive, and working with your community leaders to identify and remedy gaps in local services. Won't you make a gift today to ensure that every working parent can remain in the workforce and every child has a safe and nurturing place in which to grow?

Even if you are unable to attend Twilight: Los Angeles, 1992, we hope you'll support the Child Care Resource Center's efforts on behalf of children and families. Please send your donation today, and thank you so much for making our work possible.

Sincerely,

Klare Shaw
