- WHEREAS: Cambridge has an historic relationship with El Salvador in which 14 years ago, the Cambridge City Council declared a Sister City relationship with San Jose Las Flores, a small town in the north of El Salvador; and
- WHEREAS: More than 150 Cambridge residents have visited Las Flores and come to know the organizations and activists working for social justice throughout the country; and
- WHEREAS: In recent years, teams of Cambridge Public School teachers and high school students have traveled to El Salvador to learn about the people and support our sister city's efforts for social justice; and
- WHEREAS: On June 20, San Jose Las Flores will celebrate its 15th "birthday", recognizing the courage of the 600 people who repopulated their community of origin in the midst of a war in which 70,000 died and in direct defiance of the military which had forced them from their original homes; and
- WHEREAS: In the 15 years since its re-beginnings, San Jose Las Flores has become a center for the area with schooling from kindergarten through high school, a health clinic which serves the surrounding areas, and a growing population of families trying to survive through a rural livelihood in an increasingly difficult economic time in which all the national resources have shifted to maquiladoras and city life; and
- WHEREAS: San Jose Las Flores has mobilized its residents to support the national movements against privatization of services, including hospitals and education, and for economic justice and providing help for neighboring provinces devastated by the earthquakes in February; and
- WHEREAS: A delegation from Cambridge is scheduled to visit El Salvador from June 16-26, led by Peace Commission director Cathy Hoffman and King Open teacher Jessie Auger which includes 6 CRLS students Nikki Larcombe, Laura Logan, Lerato Tsebe, Manuel Flores, Kate Sanders-Fleming Renato Ramirez and 2 CRLS graduates Kieran Pearson and Cynthia Orellana; now therefore be it

RESOLVED: That the Cambridge City Council salutes San Jose Las Flores on its 15th birthday for its continued presence as a model community for democracy and social justice and be it further

RESOLVED: That the Cambridge City Council commends the delegation and wishes it all success in its missions to visit our sister city community, meet with organizers in the capitol, meet with youth leaders across the country and help with earthquake re-construction in the province of La Libertad; and be it further

RESOLVED: That the Cambridge City Council extends an invitation to all in Cambridge to attend the report-back from the delegation on Sunday, July 1 from 2-4 in the afternoon. (Final details available from the Cambridge Peace Commission at 349-4694)
