Subject Sacramento Field site plan

Enclosed are the deeds for Sacramento Field (9-11r Sacramento Street) and 21 Sacramento Street. As I mentioned to you in our telephone conversation today Paul Healy would like to have this survey done as soon as possible as he has to file the City Council taking within 30 days after the approval. As you know the plan has to be done on linen to be filed in Middlesex Court. As you can see by the deeds there is one plan referanced(Sacramento Field) yet we would like both sites on one plan.

If you have any questions or need some assistance, please contact me.

To James L. Sullivan, City Manager

Subject Sacramento Field Open Space Site

I recommend that the City acquire a parcel of land of approximately 53,006 square feet on Sacramento Street, as shown on the attached plan, for development as public recreation and open space.

In all of its 153 acres, the Agassiz Neighborhood contains only one public open space, that being the playground affiliated with the Agassiz School. Considering that the population of the neighborhood exceeds 5,150 people including over 600 children, it is clear that there is an immediate need of developed public open space.

This proposed used for the vacant land on Sacramento Street is consistent with the Cambridge Recreational Open Space Plan of April, 1977.

The acquisition and development of this site for public open space was eligible for Federal Block Grant funding, and sufficient funds have been set aside for it.

THE
OPEN SPACE
PROPOSAL

SACRAMENTO FIELD

THE RESIDENTS OF THE AGASSIZ NEIGHBORHOOD PROPOSE THE PURCHASE AND DEVELOPMENT OF SACRAMENTO FIELD AS AN OPEN SPACE, RECREATIONAL AREA. THE FOLLOWING PAGES DESCRIBE THE NEEDS AND PLANS DEVELOPED BY THE AGASSIZ NEIGHBORHOOD PLANNING GROUP, AGASSIZ COMMUNITY SCHOOL COUNCIL, AND THE AGASSIZ P.T.A.

THE AGASSIZ NEIGHBORHOOD'S OPEN SPACE PROPOSAL

The members of our community have been working hard to see that this neighborhood is maintained and improved as a diverse residential area where families, the elderly, singles and students can live. We are heartened by our progress to date in encouraging families to buy homes in the neighborhood and send their children to the Agassiz School, reversing, in this neighborhood, a city wide trend of absentee ownership and family exodus. Successful down-zoning campaigns, full enrollment in the Agassiz School, expanded, low cost day care programs through the Agassiz Community School, expanded elderly programs at the North Church and the new Agassiz Community Center have all made this area in the eyes of those living here one of the most desirable neighborhoods in the city. Although much has been gained the direction could be reversed by a negative vote on the Sacramento Field taking that is now before the council.

The following pages will give the rational for the taking. We hope that the city council will continue to support our neighborhood's concerns and join with us to develope Sacramento Field into the much needed open space this area and the city as a whole needs.

THE AGASSIZ NEIGHBORHOOD'S OPEN SPACE PROPOSAL

ARGUMENTS IN FAVOR OF THE OPEN SPACE PROPOSAL

1. The Agassiz community is ranked 12th out of the 13 Cambridge neighborhoods in the amount of open space available for resident use.

2. The only planned open space is the Alden Tot Lot, a .3-acre concrete and sand play area designed for and heavily used by pre-school children. Active play space is taken up by equipment designed for very small children and passive space amounts to three benches used by parents watching their children play. There is no grass, and the lot is bounded on one side by Oxford St., the main thoroughfare through the neighborhood.

3. The Agassiz School playground is a .1-acre asphalt area behind the school which provides no passive recreation space and negligible active play space for anybody.

4. Sacramento Field is the only large open space area in the neighborhood with the potential for development as active and passive recreational space that can serve residents of all ages.

5. If Sacramento Field is not purchased by the City and Harvard University proceeds with the planned 60 units of university related housing this neighborhood will then be ranked last in open space with .06 acres per 1000 people. The 12th ranked neighborhood in this case has .26 acres per 1000 people.

6. Every other neighborhood has at least one large open space area except for Agassiz.

7. The Agassiz Public School has shown a dramatic increase in students over the past four years. The current enrollment is 254 yet the only play area is the .1 acre blacktop surface behind the school. This problem coupled with the smallest gym in the system has severly limited the athletic program and forced the upper grades to travel to the Peabody School for gym classes. It has also prevented Agassiz from competing in any of the inter-school athletic programs.

9. The average density of the neighborhood is already at the city average of approximately 70 persons/acre (the second densest city in the U.S.). Harvard's plan for new housing units would substantially increase the density.

10. Although Sacramento Field is currently being used by residents as open space there is no maintenance by Harvard. The field is glass-strewn and littered, overgrown with weeds and full of "pot holes," a favorite spot for teen-agers to "hang out." In short, while there is virtually no other active recreation space in the neighborhood, Sacramento Field is an eyesore and a safety hazard.

11. The next nearest open spaces are each over one mile away and are heavily used by their own neighborhoods.

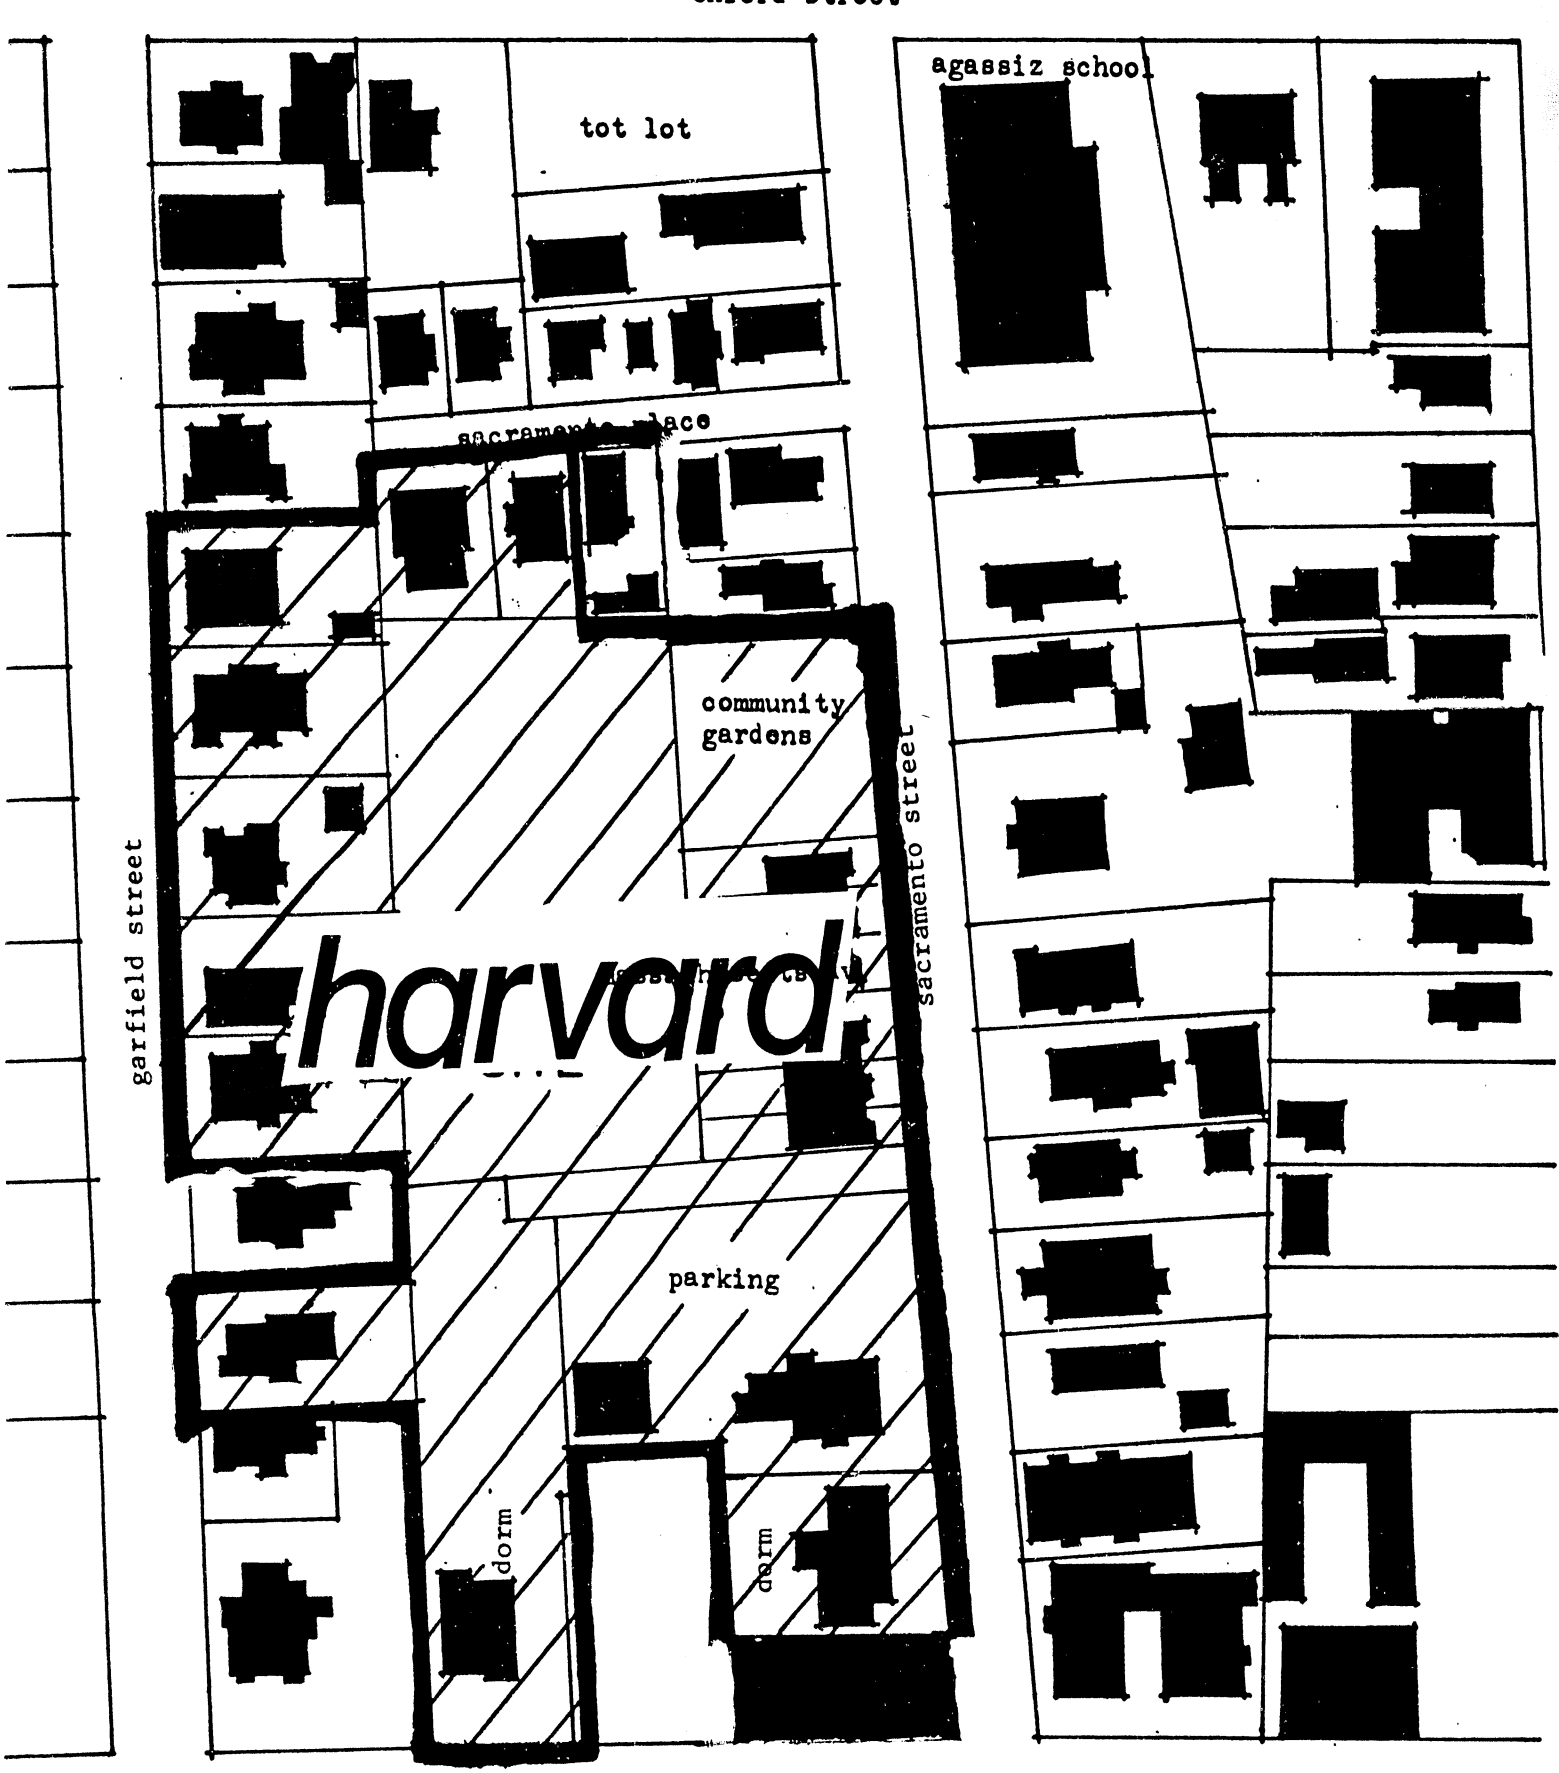

12. The Agassiz neighborhood during the past years has reversed the trend of absentee ownership and family exodus so devestating to other parts of Camb. Owner occupancy is up dramatically as is the influx of families demonstrated by the increasing school population.

13. The past two successfull re-zoning efforts by this community in 1972 and 1974 had immediate beneficial effects in encouraging purchases by owner occupants of dwelling units formerly held by absentee landlords. This, in turn, had an obvious visible effect on the stability of the neighborhood.

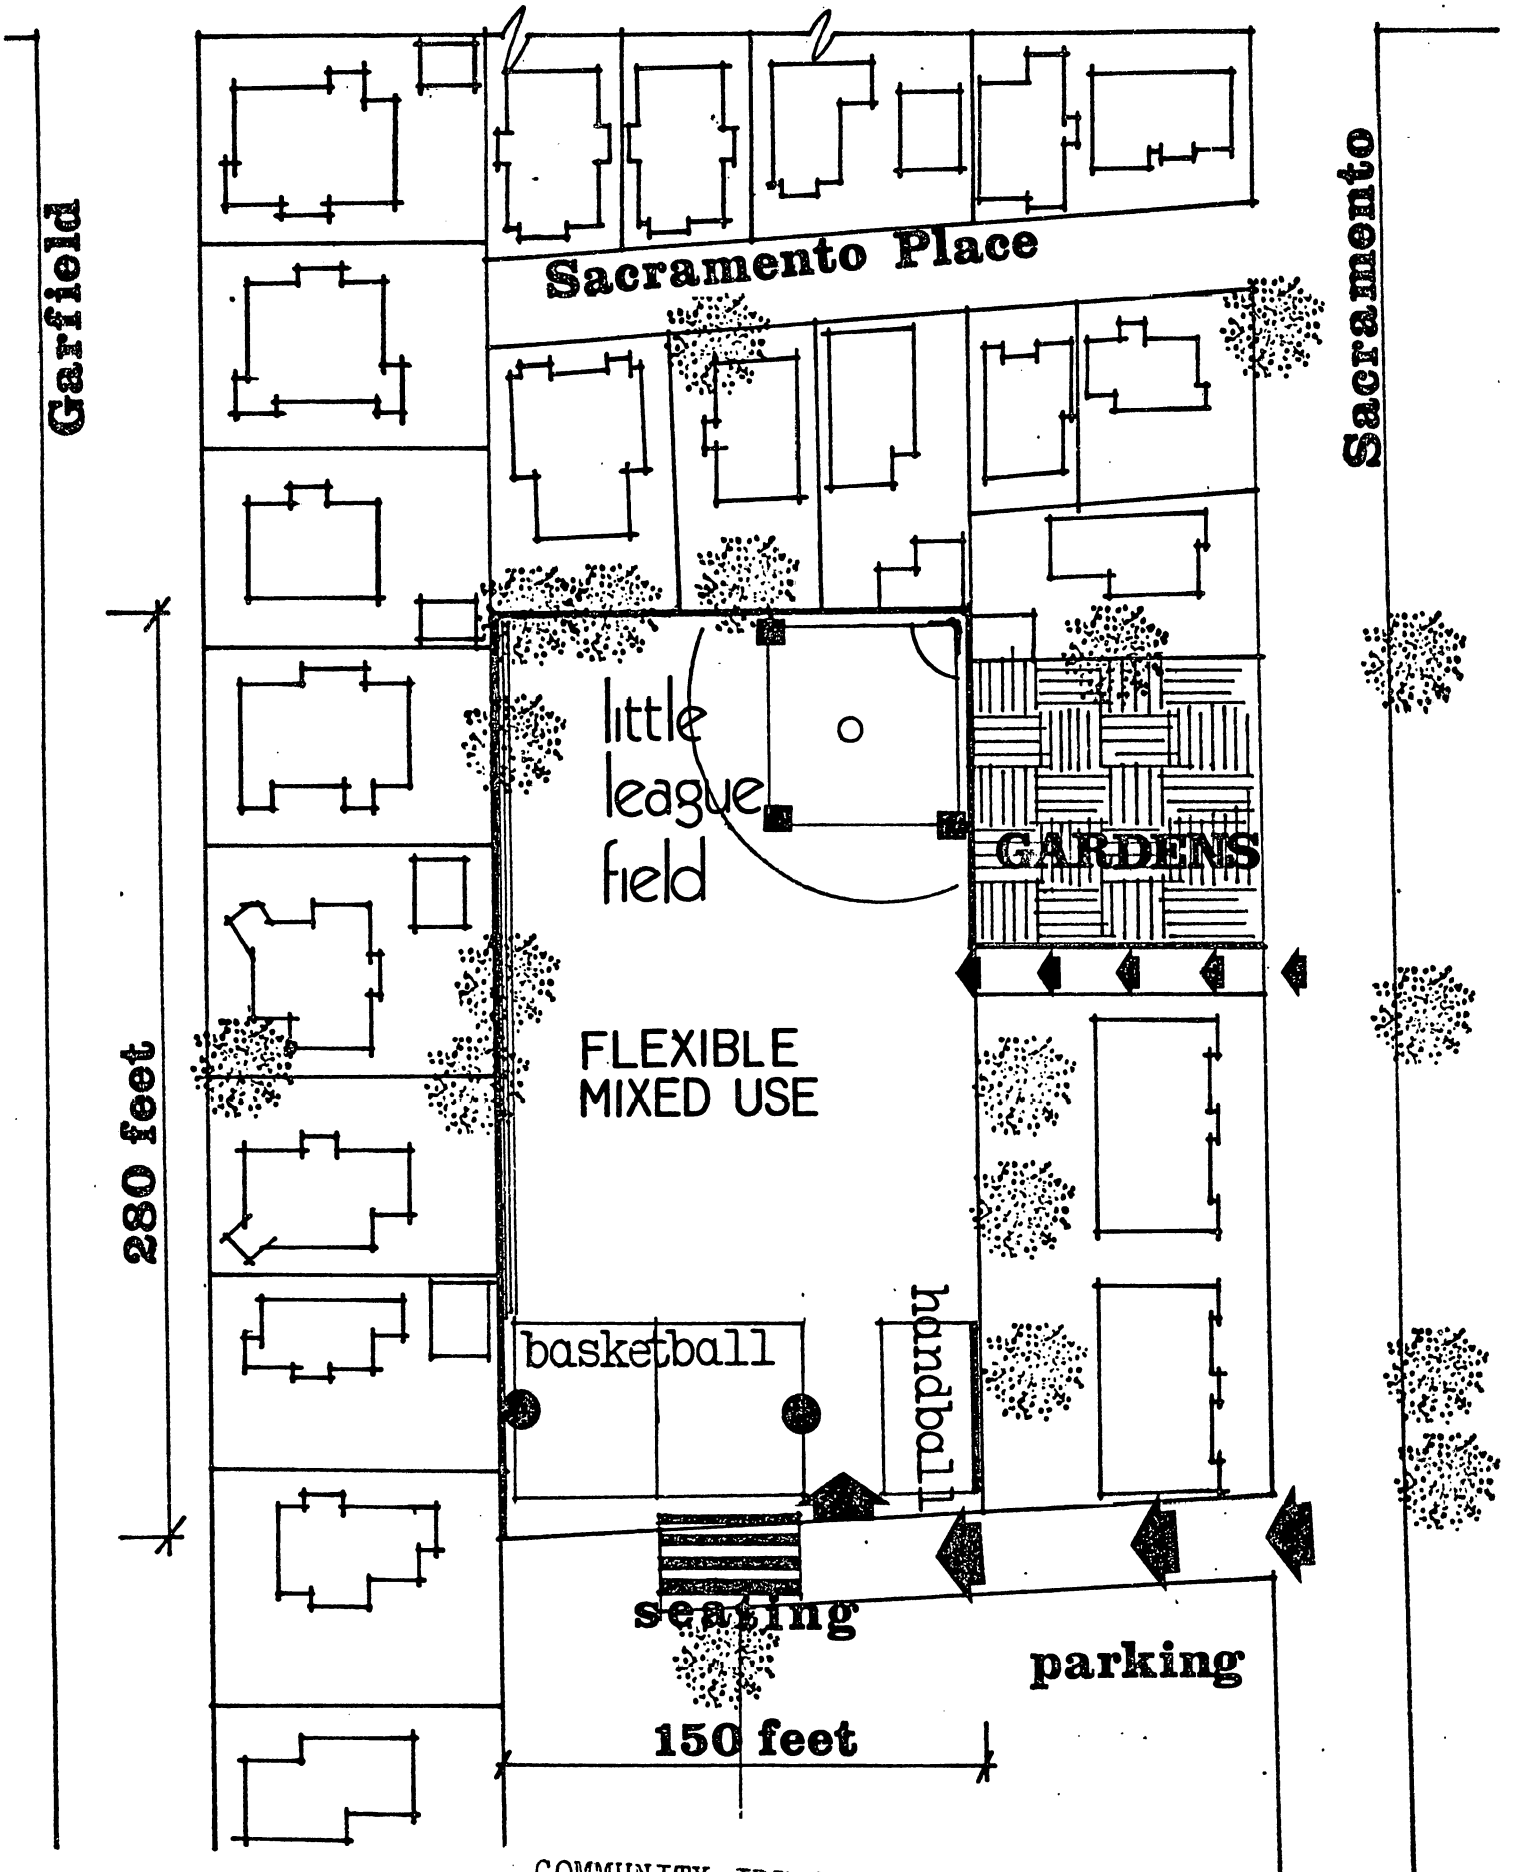

14. The purchase of Sacramento Field by the City would stop any future development on a large scale by Harvard in this area and potentially result in the university divesting itself of 14 residential housing units. This,in turn, would continue the home ownership trend and neighborhood stabilization.

15. The Agassiz Proposal includes the lot at 21 Sacramento St. This lot, again owned by Harvard, has been developed over the past two years into neighborhood gardens. There are currently 64 garden plots serving over 200 residents. All maintenance and supervision is done by residents with some assistance from the D.P.W. but, as with the field, no help from Harvard.

16. During the summer months the neighborhood sponsors a series of clean up efforts at Sacramento Field. This initiative points out the need for open space and the community's willingness to help maintain the field in the future.

If Sacramento Field was lost through the proposed housing development Neighborhood 8 would lose the one acre in the"private ownership" column and the "open space/1000 people" column would then read .06. This new figure would put the neighborhood last in every column with three times less open space than the next area.
