IN MEMORIAM

IN LOVING MEMORY OF JACK SAVERNOR SEPTEMBER 5, 2000

God saw you getting tired, and a cure was not to be, so he put his arms around you and whispered "Come to Me." A golden heart stopped beating, hardworking hands at rest. God broke our hearts to prove to us, He only takes the best. In our hearts forever, your loving wife, your children and your grandchildren.

ANNOUNCEMENTS

SUSAN BALLS UNITED JEWISH COMMUNITIES

The officers, Board of Trustees and staff of United Jewish Communities are deeply saddened by the passing of Susan Solender Balls, beloved sister of our President and CEO, Stephen D. Solender and daughter of Sanford Solender, former Executive Vice President of Federations of Jewish Philanthropies of New York. Susan Balls, a loving and devoted wife, mother and friend; an outstanding philanthropist, successful business leader and champion of women's health issues, will continue to be an inspiration, not only to those who knew her, but to thousands of others whose lives were touched by her caring ways, her compassion and her courage. She expressed her deep commitment to the Jewish people and her love of Israel through dedicated service as a Board member of Brandeis University, Beth Israel Hospital in Boston, Combined Jewish Philanthropies of Boston, and Americans for Peace Now. She served as Board Chair of The Heller School at Brandeis University and as Board Chair at Simmons College. She will be deeply missed. We extend our heartfelt condolences to her husband, Lawrence; her children, Katherine and David; her father, Sanford Solender; to Elsa and Steve Solender; her brother and sister-in-law, Peter and Susan Solender and her sister and brother-in-law, Ellen and Harvey Hirsch. The funeral will be held in the Spingold Theater at Brandeis University at 10:00 a.m. on Friday, Sept. 29. In lieu of flowers, remembrances may be made to the Susan S. Balls Breast Cancer Research Fund of the Silent Spring Institute, 29 Crafts St., Newton, MA 02458.

Mrs. Stiver and her colleagues posit that the theory of human development they had been taught — which held that separating from relationships and achieving autonomous selfhood was the pinnacle of development — did not fit their experience as women and as therapists, or the experience of their women patients.

They created a theory that underlines their belief that women's relationships are part of their essence.

Ruby Barnes, was a bookkeeper

Ruby (Hager) Barnes, a former bookkeeper for the Chicago Sun Times, died Monday in the Wayland Nursing and Rehabilitation Center. She was 95.

Mrs. Barnes was born in Chicago. She worked for the Sun Times prior to moving to Brookline in 1954.

She lived in Brookline for 44 years before moving to Wayland in 1998.

She was the wife of the late Eugene P. Barnes.

She leaves a stepson, Paul, of Phoenix; a brother, Walter A. Hager of Waynesville, Mo.; and six grandchildren.

A funeral will be held at 10 a.m. Monday in Old South Church in Boston. Burial will be in Oakridge-Glen Oak Cemetery in Hillside, Ill.

chology department in 1958 was also principal associate in chiatry (psychology) at Harvard Medical School.

In 1991 she resigned from hospital to pursue private practice fulltime and to devote her energies to the Stone Center.

She leaves her husband, R.

Funeral arrangements are private. A memorial service will be held at 2 p.m. Nov. 11 at Houghton Memorial Chapel, Wellesley College.

Patsy McVity, 72 former art curator

A memorial service will be held on Oct. 6 for Patsy B. McVity, former curator of the Concord Art Association.

Mrs. McVity died Aug. 2 in Northampton, where she was living in her retirement. She was 72.

According to artist Charles Shurcliff, during her 18 year tenure as curator of the Concord Art Association Mrs. McVity "transformed the facility into one of the top art associations of New England."

Her enthusiasm, he said, was contagious.

She was born in Forest Hill, N.C. She attended Queens College in Charlotte, N.C., and was active in the Charlotte Little Theater.

She was a feature writer for the Mt. Kisco (N.Y.) Patent Times before her affiliation with the Concord Art Association.

She leaves two daughters, Sarah Mears Gaddis of Forest Hill, N.Y., and Karen Hurthorne, N.Y., and Karen Hurthorne of Sudbury; two sons, Matthew Gaddis of New York City and Patrick Romeyn Taylor of Leverett; and a brother, E. Black Jr. of Amagansett, N.Y.

The memorial service will be held at 7:30 p.m. in the Eme Umbrella for the Arts in Concord.

It Was A Test We Could All Hope to Pass
But None Of Us Would Want To Take
Faced With The Choice To Deny God And Live
For Her There Was One Choice To Make

This Was Her Time
This Was Her Dance
She Lived Every Moment
Left Nothing To Chance
She Swam In The Sea
Drank Of The Deep
Embraced The Mystery
Of All She Could Be
This Was Her Time

Though You Are Mourning
And Grieving Your Loss
Death Died Long Time Ago
Swallowed In Life So Her Life Carries On Still It's So Hard To Let Go
