Dear Mr. Healy:

Ann Hershfang has told me she spoke to you about our upcoming walking tour of the Cambridge traffic calming sites on Saturday, October 21, 2000, and that you have agreed to support the walk. As a leader in traffic calming efforts, Cambridge is by far the best site for this tour – a place to demonstrate what traffic calming does and how it fits into neighborhoods. WalkBoston is very pleased to be able to tell Greater Boston residents about your significant accomplishments and their potential applicability in other communities.

We planned our walk with the assistance of Katherine Watkins, Cambridge Traffic Calming Manager, and with information from the Cambridge Historical Commission. Carol R. Johnson Associates is also supporting the walk, as they have performed many landscaping design services for the City of Cambridge along our planned route.

Enclosed is a brochure showing our tour with some highlights of what we will point out along the route of the walk. We will explain the tools used in calming traffic, and discuss their use in different settings to solve particular problems. We will also point out significant and interesting old buildings and their context in the neighborhoods.

WalkBoston is pleased to have the support of the City of Cambridge on this project. We trust that you will be pleased with the results.

Sincerely,
