A FRESH APPROACH:

New Perspectives on Human Services in Cambridge

You are cordially invited to a seminar series sponsored by Cambridge Community Services and the Cambridge Community Foundation. Please join us for lively discussions and some startling new ideas!

Thursday, March 10, 4:00 - 5:30, Cambridge Rindge and Latin School Cafeteria

YOUTH SPEAK OUT - Much of today's media coverage of youth focuses on gang violence, drug abuse, and teen pregnancy. What is it really like to be a teenager today? We'll learn the answer from the experts - a panel of Cambridge youth. Join us for an energetic evening of dialogue with teenagers, co-sponsored by Dreamers Inc. Be prepared to learn something new from these articulate spokespersons for youth.

Thursday, April 28, 4:00 - 5:30, Substance Abuse Task Force, 19R Brookline Ave.

COALITION BUILDING: FROM TALK TO ACTION - Everyone knows how to share ideas, but how can we move beyond talk to create strong, productive collaborations? Dr. David Rosenbloom, Director of Join Together (a Boston-based national project that works to create and sustain community coalitions on substance abuse) will help us think through how to build coalitions that are effective and produce results. (note: 4:00-4:30 networking time; 4:30-5:30 presentation)

Coming in May - date and place to be announced

PREDICTING THE FUTURE: CHANGING DEMOGRAPHICS AND THE

ECONOMY - How is our community changing? What will we look like in twenty years? What are the implications for families and for human services providers? Join us and learn about the broad demographic trends that will influence our work and our community. (note: 4:00-4:30 networking time; 4:30-5:30 presentation)

All sessions free and open to the public in handicapped accessible space.

To register or for more information, please call 876-5412

Please post or circulate this information to others in your organization who would be interested in attending these seminars
