

Gentlepeople,

January 7, 1977

Politics, it has been said, is the art of compromise. But there are issues which, because of their great potential danger, cannot be the subject of compromise. Take the bull by the horns. ~~Protestations~~ Promises of stringent guidelines are worthless in these circumstances. Guidelines are mere words which will, without a doubt, be broken. Don't fall for that stuff. Ban recombinant research. Sincerely, Art Lazarowitz
