BOSTON, Jan. 7th., 1888.

Gen. Edward W. Hincks.

My Dear Sir:-

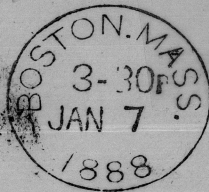

Your favor is received with regard to the extension of Charles River Street, and I am very much obliged to you for calling my attention to it. I have already sent to my clients a petition to be signed by them, praying for a hearing in the matter before the Board makes any final decision, and this petition will be filed before the next meeting of your Board. I suppose that, as a matter of course, after the petition has been presented, since the greater part of your Board of this year are new members, and have heard nothing of the discussion as to the extension, we shall have the privilege of a hearing. Thanking you again for your kindness in notifying me, I am

Very truly yours,

To the Honorable the City Council of the
City of Cambridge

The undersigned, an owner of property adjacent to the land through which it is proposed to extend Charles River Street to Symington Street, respectfully protests against such extension, believing in view of the many very large expenditures which must necessarily be made by the City during the present year, that no expenses whatever should be incurred in taking private property, or otherwise, which are not absolutely necessary.

Wm. Henry P. Glover

City of Cambridge.

In Board of Aldermen, Jan 10th 1888

~~Resolved~~, That the public necessity and convenience require that Charles River Street, shall be extended from its present northeasterly terminus, crossing Mount Auburn Street to Bow Street, by taking for such purpose a certain parcel of land shown on a plan prepared by the City Engineer, dated December 9, 1887, said land being bounded and described as follows: Beginning on the northerly line of Mount Auburn Street at a point where the easterly line of Charles River Street, produced, intersects said northerly line of Mount Auburn Street; thence running northerly by the said easterly line of Charles River Street, produced, about thirty three feet (33) to the southerly line of Bow Street; thence running westerly on the said southerly line of Bow Street about forty (40) feet: thence running and running southerly by a line parallel with and forty feet distant from said easterly line of Charles River Street, produced, about twenty eight (28) feet, to Mount Auburn Street: thence running
