Dear City Council

It has recently come to my attention that there is widespread use of animals in Cambridge-based research labs. I respectfully request that such use be examined and that regulations which will prevent unnecessary suffering by test animals be instituted. Thank you.

Yours truly,

It has been brought to my attention that the inhumane useage of animals to test products, is going on right in my back yard! (so to speak) I would please request that you examine the use of animals in Cambridge based research and testing institutions.

I am curious to know if existing regulations ensure that care and caution is taken to avoid all unnessesary suffering in this city's labs.

We must stop this disgusting and unnessesary testing on lab animals!

Gentlemen:

I respectfully request that you examine the use of animals in product-testing by Cambridge-based research and manufacturing firms so as to determine how much of it is unnecessary and can be substituted for by less cruel and more humane forms of testing.
