In today's dynamic work environment, leadership is more important than ever. Leadership is the most critical factor in the continuing ability of an organization to perform. In today's business climate, that leadership must exist throughout the organization. The warp-speed change of the '90s has challenged leaders to embrace new approaches and master skills not provided by traditional leadership models.

OUR MISSION

Legato Consulting™ is dedicated to practical systemic solutions which help leaders and organizations increase their effectiveness in a complex, high change environment.

Our approach enables leaders to see the impact of their leadership on the entire organizational system and to implement whole system solutions.

OUR PHILOSOPHY

We believe that leadership:

- Can be learned and continuously improved.
- Exists throughout an organization.
- Must be flexible in order to sustain high performance.

OUR UNIQUE VALUE ADD

We are senior consultants with years of experience in management, line, and consulting positions.

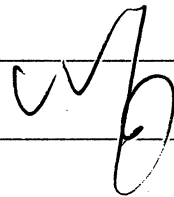

We have uniquely integrated management development, continuous improvement, and applied system thinking.
