To The Cambridge City Council,

I am writing to you because of my concern of the inhumane treatment of animals at M.I.T. and other such institutions in and around your city. The tests and experiments that take place here are completely lacking any sort of compassion. Who gives these professors, teachers, and other instructors the right to take away an animals basic right of life?

I hope you will not overlook this pressing problem; and push to have something done about it. The Cambridge Committee for Responsible Research is working very hard for what they, and I believe in, that animals should not be treated as they have been in these various institutions that abuse them.

Thank You for your time.
