EXPERIENCE

Producer, "The Devil's Music"

National Productions, WGBH-TV, Boston (1997-1999)

Responsible for the production of a one-hour film that will examine issues of reaction and resistance to jazz music in 1920's America. This film will be one program in a four-hour series exploring the relationship between art, morality and society. Developed by WGBH and targeted for prime-time broadcast in the 2000 season, the series is designed to make an important contribution to public debate over controversial art, censorship, and the role of arts in society.

Series Producer, SAY BROTHER

WGBH-TV, Boston (1993-1997)

Responsible for the day-to-day operation, production, and management of the weekly prime-time public affairs series, SAY BROTHER. For over twenty-five years, the series has been an important voice to and for Boston's communities of color.

Associate Producer, SAY BROTHER

WGBH-TV, Boston (1989-1993)

Responsible for the conception and production of segments, documentaries, and specials; research and writing, and supervision of location and studio production.
