WHEREAS: Spreading goodwill from generation to generation is a universal attribute, creating bridges of solidarity and understanding between cities, countries and nations; and

WHEREAS: Readily embracing and strengthening the concept of neighbor greeting neighbor, sister greeting sister, a hearty welcome is extended to the Honorable Misao Kimura, Mayor of Tsukuba, Japan, Councillors and the entire Tsukuba delegation; and

WHEREAS: Tsukuba City, the site of Japan's science city and the City of Cambridge, MA are similarly united through the historical tradition of academics and technology and are numbered among the leading scientific centers of the world; and

WHEREAS: In advancing the friendly principles of diplomatic relations during their two day stay, April 19 & 20, 1993, this sister city delegation will engage in many varied activities, including a welcome visit to City Hall, an extensive cultural and academic tour of the city, a shopping interlude and culminating with a celebrating banquet; and

WHEREAS: A pattern of continued harmony presents an opportunity to promote a joint spirit of sharing and manifesting an environment of social and cultural enrichment; and

WHEREAS: Over the past ten years of this sister city relationship, citizens of Tsukuba and Cambridge have opened the doors of friendships, harmony and goodwill through exchange visits; now therefore be it

RESOLVED: That this Cambridge City Council celebrate our first decade of the friendly relations between Tsukuba and Cambridge and hope for continued international relations for many years to come.

In City Council April 12, 1993.
