WHEREAS: Tuesday, June 7, 2005 marks both National Hunger Awareness Day and the thirteenth Cambridge First Day at MIT Celebration—an annual event established in 1993 to highlight community partnerships in the City of Cambridge; and

WHEREAS: MIT has honored dozens of Cambridge businesses, organizations, and individuals representing many different sectors of our community over the last thirteen years for their lasting contributions to the enhancement of our collective quality of life in Cambridge; and

WHEREAS: A significant number of individuals and families in the City of Cambridge—including many children, elderly people, and the working poor—struggle with hunger because they cannot afford adequate amounts of food; and

WHEREAS: MIT's Office of Government and Community Relations and the City's Department of Human Service Programs have joined together to host the 2005 Cambridge First Day event, celebrating the contributions of Cambridge's Food Pantry Network to the health and dignity of the residents of our City; and

WHEREAS: The highlight of the event will be the presentation of thirteen Cambridge First Day Awards—accompanied by a $6,500 donation to be shared among the thirteen Cambridge-based food pantries—as a salute to the extraordinary organizations that are being honored for their dedicated work; now therefore be it

RESOLVED: That the Cambridge City Council does hereby congratulate the following awardees for their exemplary dedication to alleviating hunger and providing nourishment to fellow Cambridge citizens:

RESOLUTION #30

Congratulations to the
