WHEREAS: For other foundation can no man lay than that which is Jesus Christ, 1 Cor. 3:11; and

WHEREAS: The true worth of an institution is not judged on the length of its existence but distinctly rated on the purpose for which it has existed and how efficacious it has been in fulfilling that purpose; and

WHEREAS: Reflecting on its humble genesis in the home of Bros. Henry Buckner in 1873, St. Paul will be celebrating its 120th anniversary the weekend of October 8, 9, and 10, 1993 with a luncheon, concert and inspirational services; and

WHEREAS: St. Paul, in keeping with its legacy in the vanguard of salvation and removal, is still literally embracing the age old concept "I am my brother's keeper" by providing classical and dignified shelter for a large grouping of homeless families, counseling, food pantry, clothing, elementary school and Christian Life Center, coupled with numerous other offerings to facilitate and improve the human quality of life; now therefore be it
