

City of Cambridge.

Board of Aldermen
In ~~Common Council~~, July 22nd 1873.

The Committee on Roads and Bridges, & which was directed by Order of Jan'y 15th to consider and report upon the best method of providing for the collection and disposal of ashes etc.

Reports

That, the Superintendent of Streets has thus far very satisfactorily attended to the matter, without any order or appropriation therefor; the duty being voluntary, and because of absence of any provision otherwise.

As the force at his disposal can thus be in a measure advantageously employed, Your Committee deems the existing plan ~~xx~~ of the most feasible one at present, and that no further action is necessary.

For the Committee,

S. F. Woodbury

Accepted. Sent down for concurrence.
