NAGLE—James R. Nagle of Boxford, MA, a retired Coast Guardsman who served his country for 21 years, a father of six and one of 13 children, died at his home Monday, May 7, after an extended illness. He was 79. Known for his quick mind, bright wit and a love of history, Mr. Nagle was a longtime resident of Georgetown. Born in Roxbury, he grew up in the Cliftondale section of Saugus during the Depression. Instead a large family struggling in difficult times, he often spoke of good days working in the sea money, swimming and fishing in the Saugus marshes and playing in the Lynn Woods. "We weren't poor," he recalled his mother saying, "We were just broke." He worked at the General Electric plant in Lynn after graduating from Saugus High School and enlisted in the U.S. Coast Guard in 1942. He met his wife Betty, who was also serving as a Coast Guard SPAR, at the Commercial Street Base in Boston. He served aboard several ships on Greenland Patrol during World War II including the Amarrak and the Monomoy. After the war he served on cutters on North Atlantic Ocean Stations including the Matagorda, and the Humboldt, and on 83-foot patrol vessels along the New England coast. In 1960 he was dispatched to North Africa by the U.S. State Department to train Libyan navy crews. When he retired in 1963 as a Master Chief Boatswains Mate at the Straitsmouth Life Boat Station in Rockport, MA, the station was retired with him. Mr. Nagle was a member of the Georgetown Knights of Columbus, the Chief Petty Officers Club of Boston and the Blind Veterans Association of Boston. In addition to his wife, Mr. Nagle leaves his children, James of Oakton, VA, Marilyn of Danvers, Frank of Villav, NJ, Janet Palmer of Peabody, Steven of Lowell, and Richard of Boxford. He also leaves 11 grandchildren and 3 great-grandchildren and his brothers and sisters: Leo, Lawrence, and Thomas of Florida, David of Saugus, William of Marblehead, Charles of Nashua, NH, Rita Walsh of Saugus, Catherine Shimer of Salem, Theresa Garmy of Swampscott, and Doretha, formerly of Nashua, NH.
