Dear Mr. Connarton:

I am sorry you did not receive my letter of October 2, 1987 and I have enclosed a copy of it for your information. I sent a similar letter to Mr. Richard Rossi, Acting Commissioner of the City of Cambridge, MA on September 22, 1987.

I hope that you will consider my application for a vendor permit, and I look forward to hearing from you.

Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Keith G. Cariani

Dear Mr. Connarton:

I would like to apply for a vendor permit to sell novelty newspapers in Harvard Square, and understand that I need your permission to do so. I have already written to Mr. Richard Rossi at the Cambridge Public Works Department to request his permission as well.

The newspapers will contain humorous articles on major historical events that occurred during the time of The Revolution. Brattle Street in Harvard Square would be an ideal selling location both because of the historical importance of the Square and because I feel those in the area would have a special appreciation for the content of the newspapers.

If you have any questions, please call me at 329-9134. Otherwise, I will call you on Friday, October 9, to find out how the City Council meeting went.

Thank you so much for your time and consideration.

Sincerely,
