Communications 10/11/96

Request the City Council send a letter to NECCO Candy Factory thanking them for the beautiful design on their mains stack, changing it from a dirty dull structure to a piece of distinctive art. And thereby adding to Cambridge one more special feature. A city where life is ever interesting and creative.

This is an opportunity for the city government to communicate to all residents and businesses to "look at things you usually don't pay attention to". No doubt the NECCO stack will now become one more of the many Cambridge landmarks.
