PRESS RELEASE

This November will mark the fourth consecutive year that a group of students from Japan will be visiting the United States, as guests of Father Matignon High School in Cambridge.

The Mito Sakuranomaki Senior High School from Mito City in Japan, is the sister school to Matignon High School in an International Link Program, to promote mutual friendship between the youth of both great nations.

Mr. Mutsuo Yamazaki, the Principal at Mito Sakuranomaki, and Mr. John Twombly, Jr., Principal at Matignon High School through the exchange of letters, videos and telephone conversations, have developed a strong exchange program, providing students with a life long educational experience in the cultures of both countries.

The educational and social awareness of Boston and Cambridge, provide learning experiences for the Japanese students to bring home to their native land. The Matignon students who act as hosts for the Japanese visitors, welcome them into their homes for a week long stay in this unique culutural exchange program.

In the Spring of 1991, a small group of Matignon students will journey to Japan, to visit their sister high school and to experience the life and cultures of Japan.
