Lead-Safe Cambridge Wins HUD Best Practice Award

Congratulations to the Community Development Department's Lead- Safe Cambridge Program, which was named one of 26 best practice award winners in the country by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development's Office of Lead Hazard Control. In their notification letter, HUD stated that our efforts exemplify what works best in all of their lead hazard control programs. Dave Jacobs, Director of the Office of Lead Hazard Control, noted that our contributions have enriched the lives of HUD's clients and helped to eliminate housing discrimination. Lead-Safe Cambridge will be recognized at HUD's 2nd Annual Best Practices Symposium in Washington, D.C. next month.

Positive EDGE has a New Interim Director

Crystal Johnson took over as Interim Director of Positive EDGE this week. During the past five years, she has worked part-time as a community liaison for the program. Eddie Harris, who previously served as Director, has taken a new position as Community Mediator with the U.S. Department of Justice. For those who may not be familiar with the program, Positive EDGE (Education, Direction, Guidance, Empowerment) seeks to link youth and their families with access to a variety of health, education and social resources within the community. For more information, call x4210.
