WHEREAS: Richard Bock was presented the Emmy award for Achievement in Sound Recording for audio mixing for the PBS Documentary on Rock n Roll on September 11, 1996; and

WHEREAS: Richard was born in Los Angeles, lived not far from Hollywood and Vine, and his father worked in the early film industry as a machinist for Technicolor and made excellent home movies on the side; and

WHEREAS: Richard moved to the East Coast in 1969 not intending to work in film or television, but after not too long gravitated in that direction; and

WHEREAS: Richard began his career as a film and television audio engineer in the City of Cambridge where his first job was as a teacher at the Orson Welles Film School formerly on Massachusetts Avenue; and

WHEREAS: Richard has had many adventures in the film industry including fishing for tuna off the coast of Mexico with John Huston and rafting down the Colorado River with James Taylor; and

WHEREAS: Richard has been putting the finishing sound touches on public television documentaries and dramatic productions for series such as Nova, American Experience, American Playhouse and others for the past fifteen years; and

WHEREAS: Richard always practices his craft with the highest concern for the quality of sound for the listeners, integrity of the content of the productions; and consideration for those with whom he is working; and

WHEREAS: In addition to having such a distinguished professional life Richard has been the proud father of Daniel and Aaron Bock and the husband of City Councillor Henrietta Davis; and

WHEREAS: He has found time to be a dedicated member of the Pedestrian Advisory Committee, The Cambridgeport Roadways Committee, to sing in the Community Chorus and to chaperon school trips; now therefore be it

RESOLVED: That for all these reasons and because we are extremely proud of his achievements, the City Council wishes to honor and congratulate Richard Bock on this day and wish him a continuing flourishing of his life and his career.
