Spanish students to visit in July

Twenty-five students from Spain, ranging in age from 14 to 18, will be visiting the greater Cambridge area from July 1-29. The students, who will speak some English, are visiting the area to experience American life and practice their English language skills. Under the sponsorship of the International Education Forum, the goal of this endeavor is to foster cross-cultural understanding and friendships among youth.

Students from Spain will need families to stay with during their visit. The host family's primary obligation is to provide a warm welcome and share their home and family life with the students. In addition, host families provide a place to sleep, meals, and some transportation. All students are fully insured and have their own spending money.

The size of your home or the sleeping accommodations are not important — students often prefer to share a room. It is not necessary to have a child of the same age, as past experience indicates that bonds of friendship are formed even among children of large age differences. Working parents, single parents, everyone is encouraged to apply. Students have full- and half-day trips planned for each week.

Each family that hosts a Spanish student will receive a scholarship ranging from $100 to $400, which enables a family member to participate in an IEF World Travel/Study Program during the next five years.

Those who are interested in learning more about this program can call Billie Jo Joy at 876-5059.

Harrington offers free classes for parents

Cambridge parents with school-age children can register for free English as a Second Language classes, a Parents as Partners class, and a ClarisWorks training class at the Harrington School on Tuesday, March 28, at 6:30 pm.

Parents and their children enroll together in the Parents as Partners class. They work on reading and writing projects using the Harrington School's Macintosh computer laboratory. No ling at the Community Learning Center, 349-6363, for more information.

Council of Negro Women honors Denise Simmons

School committee member Denise Simmons has been selected as an outstanding Massachusetts woman by the National Council of Negro Women Inc.

Simmons will be recognized as a 1995 Women of Courage and Conviction for her "dedication and contributions" to education by the greater Boston chapter of the council. She will receive her award at an April 8 ceremony at the Crown Plaza Hotel in Woburn. The guest speaker will be Dr. Johnetta B. Cole, president of Spellman University in Atlanta.

The National Council of Negro Women Inc. was founded in 1935 by the great educator and humanitarian, Mary McLeod Bethune. The greater Boston section of the organization is the first and only chapter in Massachusetts.

Scholarships are available for East Cambridge students

East Cambridge residents who plan to attend a college or trade school for the 1995-96 academic school year have until April 3 to apply for the East Cambridge Scholarship Fund.

Last year, $14,000 in scholarship money was granted to 25 East Cambridge residents. The scholarship fund defines East Cambridge as Broadway to the Charles River, to the Cambridge/Somerville line to the railroad tracks.

Pick up applications at the Frisoli Youth Center, 78 Gore St.; the Kennedy Community School office, 158 Spring St.; the East End House, 105 Spring St.; or at the Sixth Street Library, 48 Sixth St.

Applications can also be requested by writing to the East Cambridge Scholarship Fund, P.O. Box 26, Cambridge, 02141. All applications supporting documents must be mailed before the strict April 3 deadline.
