Joe and Marilyn Benoit founded Benoit Realty in the Bicentennial year of 1976 with the Revolutionary goal of providing the best in real estate services to their customers. The original office was situated near Porter Square on the Cambridge-Somerville line. Joe, who holds an MBA from Harvard University, brought experience in advertising and merchandising with a department store chain to the new company. Marilyn, with an MA in Theater from Northwestern and experience as a high school teacher, was able to set up unique professional training for the company.

Within two years their company was one of the largest in the area. At that time they became affiliated as one of the Charter offices of CENTURY 21 in Massachusetts.

Through the years of rapid growth, CENTURY 21 Benoit Realty, Inc. has become a leading CENTURY 21 office in New England in sales, while becoming one of the largest and most successful real estate offices in Massachusetts.

Both Joe and Marilyn credit the team work of office support staff and their professionally-trained and motivated agents as the secret of the company's success.
